Memories:

Souvenirs our hearts collect throughout the years.

Contributed by a

Bulletin Board Guest Writer

I was in the eighth grade at a little two-room school. We went from public school to Catholic school and back to public school. Anyway, it was carnival time. We had to sell tickets for a fundraiser. The girl who sold the most tickets would be queen. I was shy, so I didn't even think about being the queen. I wasn't going to ask anybody for anything. One of the girls in our class was very pretty, so I thought for sure she would be chosen. I wasn't thinking of the ticket sales. I was thinking about pretty. I was so shocked when they called my name, but pleased, as I would get a pretty dress. The dress was yellow chiffon with a long skirt and lots of soft material like clouds, and it was gauzy. It also had arm covers from wrist to elbows like long gloves, only soft fabric. The corsage was my first and only flower and would be for ages. It was a beautiful green and yellow orchid.

I was very proud to be chosen and have had all these firsts. Of course, I had to have an escort (boys not being my favorite thing). I looked around and chose the best-looking boy in class. I didn't know him then or later. He must have moved to the area recently and just as quickly moved away. When I got older, I realized my grandmother must have purchased all those tickets. If that was the case, she gave me my first beautiful memory. But I still wanted the pretty girl to have won. I was able to tell her family that story for them to share with her after all these years

Robert "Bob" Bishop
Feb. 19, 2021

Bonnie Bishop
March 16, 2021

Robert "Bob" Bishop passed away on Feb. 19, 2021. Not long after, Bonnie Bishop joined him on Mar. 16, 2021.

They met by chance at a dance in Nebraska and, as they would say, went on dancing together for the next 65 years. Bob and Bonnie were married on July 24, 1955. Not often does a couple like Bob and Bonnie come along. They were a force of nature. Bigger than life in life, they left an equally large legacy in their wake at their passing.

Starting as a young couple, they used the GI Bill to get Bob a college degree. They quickly grew to a family of four, with Bob working as a teacher and coach in a mid-sized Nebraska town. Moving to Oregon in 1968, they added two more kids before they settled in Willamina to raise their family. They leave behind six children: Brian and his wife Vikki Bishop; Bobbi and her husband John DeVors; Brenda and her husband Barry Wilson; Brad Bishop; Becki and her husband Tom Hall; Brett and his wife Jennifer Bishop; and they were blessed with 19 grandchildren and 27 great-grandchildren.

Both Bob and Bonnie worked hard to provide a good home for their family. Bob taught and coached in Warrenton, Clatskanie, and finally settled in Willamina, where he taught and coached for the next 35 years until he retired in 1998. He was most noted for his coaching in wrestling, cross country, and track. Bob was inducted into the National Wrestling Hall of Fame for coaches.

In her early career, Bonnie taught in a one-room schoolhouse in Nebraska. She worked several different jobs throughout her career but spent most of her time at Boise Cascade, putting in 25 years until she retired in 1999. Bonnie had a passion for music and enjoyed playing the piano. Her love of music started at a young age, as her father played in a polka band.

Bob and Bonnie, as parents, grandparents, and great grandparents, were always the biggest supporters of each member of their growing family. Bob and Bonnie knew no strangers; they made new friends no matter where they went.

After retirement, they traveled the world together. They also treasured big family get-togethers. Family to Bob and Bonnie was EVERYTHING! Their deep love for their family was as strong as their deep love for one another.

Their love and pride in their family were always evident. Their priority and focus was always family.

Always supportive, dedicated, and with unconditional love, to say they will be deeply and dearly missed barely hits the mark. They will be missed by many, loved by all, and hold a special place in all our hearts.

A celebration of their lives will be held from 2-4 p.m. on Saturday, June 4, 2022, at the Willamina School Gymnasium.

Warm Fuzzies

Thank you, Richie! You are so thoughtful! First, to remember that I purchased the Rachael Ray bake ware from you a few years ago! And, second, to deliver those additional pieces of the collection. I hope you enjoy your new home. You will be missed!

A MESSAGE FROM THE WILLAMINA SCHOOL DISTRICT

It is still early, but May has already had so many events, with more to come!

Last week our "Willamina Kustoms" (metal manufacturing) club hosted Gene Winfield, a nationally recognized metal fabricator, to teach a two-day clinic at our Career Technical Education Shop. We had a full house for the event, with attendees traveling from as far away as New York. We appreciate the collaboration with Spirit Mountain Casino and Steve Bobb to help facilitate a "meet and greet" with Gene.

Our high school and middle school students helped pull off the revival of our School Carnival, a long-time favorite event. Mr. Nelson and his crew of students organized, set up, hosted, and cleaned up the entire event. It is a lot of work, but the fun had by all makes it well worth the effort.

Track, baseball, and softball are in full swing, with district meets and playoffs coming soon. Several of our track athletes continue to make new personal records at each meet, and qualifying for the state meet looks promising. Currently, Hallee Hughes is ranked #11 in the nation in Javelin (#2 in Oregon at all levels and #1 in 3A). She is also ranked #1 in discus @ 3A and #6 in Shot Put @ 3A. Her teammate Brooklyn Bailey is ranked #9 @ 3A in the High Jump.

The last week of April, WES hosted a "roundup" for incoming kindergarten students. This event allows parents to come to meet the teachers, pre-register for the fall of 2022, and learn more about the kindergarten curriculum and expectations. In addition to the roundup, WES will host a kindergarten transition camp in mid-August, just prior to the start of school.

The final weeks of May will include field trips, sporting events, 8th-grade promotion, and High School graduation. It is so wonderful to have events at school that include the community; we have missed that the past two years. In addition to these final events, we will be having a full schedule of summer activities throughout June and July. Students will be coming home with more information about the offerings.

Happy Spring!

With great Bulldog pride,
Carrie Zimbrick, Superintendent

What Woke Us Up?

Brad Pederson

A while back, I was forced awake to a shattering sound that I, while dreaming, perceived as breaking glass. After we thoroughly searched our home without any resolve, the family as a whole decided to lay awake in bed for the next three hours on a school night, pretending to sleep. We tossed, we turned, and then someone got up for a drink of water.

Later that morning, while heading out to work, I looked down near the front door and realized my bucket of deck screws (that I didn't put away) had been pushed off a chair, and the bucket was now face down on the carpet.

Turning to my wife for my goodbye kiss, I blurted out spontaneously, "The cat in the living room with the deck screws." That was the first time I successfully proclaimed the outcome of a game of Clue; I'm sad to say my kids were not even in the room. We laughed with relief. That was the dawning of our family's live-action board game, which we now call "What Woke Us Up?" If you are not already playing it with your family, here are a few other game outcomes we ran into with ours: Was it "The smoke detector in the kitchen that I swear we replaced the batteries last month?" Could it be "The ghost in the den with that annoying toy your sister bought the baby last summer?" Or perhaps, "The middle child in the bathroom playing with the toilet?" A couple of times, it has been, "A deer in the driveway smashing against the Traeger BBQ."

It's nice that game night is still an activity that I can get my older children into. The thought of destroying me in a round of Munchkins or Ticket to Ride can beckon even the eldest child who flew the coop to race home on a weekend for bragging rights. Most recently, we have been hunkering down over new board designs we have conjured up, taking shots at different styles of art, all the while dreaming of one day earning residual passive income. Nights filled with debating the probability of strange looking dice, giggling at one another's drawings, and calling grandma to ask her absurd trivia questions, has opened our family to broader possibilities.

The Bulletin Board welcomes new free lance writer Brad Pederson of Willamina. We love his sense of humor and look forward to working with him.

Computer Solutions Hosted May 6 Chamber Breakfast Meeting at MEC

Matt Huegli, owner of Computer Solutions, hosted the Sheridan Chamber meeting last Friday at the Monroe Event Center. He brought a computer to use for his presentation and explained a couple of simple fixes to speed up computers. Kay and Jim Buckles are pictured to the right.

Also at the breakfast, Lucy Hebert and Susan Chamberlain try to remember which year "Heck Harper" was the grand marshal of the Phil Sheridan Days parade... and what in the heck they did with their Heck Harper Junior Ranch Hand wallet cards... Thanks to Marilyn Levy, Sheridan Museum of History, the group learned that Heck was grand marshal twice, the second time in 1966.

The next Sheridan Chamber breakfast meeting is scheduled for 8-9:15 a.m. on Friday, May 20, at the Monroe Event Center. The meeting will be hosted by John Stanislaw, owner of Air Safety Northwest. He will make a "Stop the Bleed" presentation.

WHS Hosts Gene Winfield, Legendary Custom Car Builder, Painter, Designer

Gene Winfield, age 94, is an automotive customizer and fabricator extraordinaire. He held a two-day workshop at Willamina High School on May 4 and 5 for adults and students alike. People traveled from New York, Seattle, and several cities around Oregon for this opportunity to meet and learn from this remarkable man. Tickets for the event cost $600, part of which helped pay for students to participate.

Gene may be known to many for his Star Trek creation, the Galileo, a Federation Class F shuttlecraft that was in service with Starfleet in the mid-23rd century, attached to the USS Enterprise.

Additionally, his work appeared in several popular television shows, such as Bewitched, Get Smart, Batman, Bonanza, Ironside, Mod Squad, Love American Style, Flintstones, and Private Eye.

His creations can be seen in many popular movies, such as Bonnie and Clyde, American Graffiti, Blade Runner, The Last Star-fighter, Robocop and Robocop 2, Back to the Future II and Solar Crisis.

His work was also a part of several television commercials and other special projects.

More information about his work is available in the book shown to the left. This book was written by Nicholas K. Whitlow.

Sheridan Community Grateful for

This trailer is just one of the many loaded trucks and trailers taking the opportunity to rid their homes and properties of junk, including materials, such as tires, batteries, electronics, and other items that are sometimes challenging to throw away.

— Sheridan Councilors do their part —

Newly appointed Mayor Rich Cox

Councilor Jim Buckles

Councilor Denny McElroy

Councilor Roxie Acuff

(Councilor Lucy Hebert also volunteered, but she was busy and running and we never caught up with her to take her photo!)

City Manager Heidi Bell deserves to be commended for devoting the staff and resources necessary to make this event the most successful cleanup Sheridan has ever experienced.

The people of Sheridan also deserve a round of applause for digging deep to rid their homes and properties of mountains of useless junk that cluttered up the beauty of the community.

Some of these dedicated citizens created a line of as many as 47 vehicles that edged along Sheridan Road (a process that took as long as two hours at times), waiting their turn to access the City's collection areas.

This event could not have happened without the estimated 200 volunteers. These folks rolled up their sleeves and gave up their Saturday to benefit their neighbors and the community.

It was impressive to see parents bring their children to this event to demonstrate and teach them the responsibility each person has for their community. Thanks also to Scout leaders who instill these values in our youth, leading by example.

It would be impossible to thank every person who made this event so successful. However, it is noteworthy that our city manager was on the scene the entire day, directing traffic on Sheridan Road, helping find solutions for unforeseen glitches, and being available when her staff needed her. In addition, new Mayor Rich Cox was up to his elbows sorting refuse at the City's collection area, and nearly all City Council members turned out to help this year.

The smiling faces of Sheridan Fire Chief Les Thomas and several staff members were also a welcome sight. And a community-minded crew from First Federal pitched in to clean up the streets.

Sheridan residents appreciate every person who picked up garbage from every street in the City. Sheridan Rotary Club members picked up trash and hauled garbage bags from the streets. Then they doled out 23 large pizzas, three large boxes of donuts, and bottled water from Rotary's blue and gold concession trailer to thank cleanup participants.

Thanks also go to Dean Rech and the Sheridan School District for allowing the event's home base to be set up on the high school grounds.

Thanks to Mark Pauletto for contributing the use of his invention, "My Hauler with Claw," which can lift and set heavy objects.

Other supporting groups included the Sheridan Revitalization Movement and the Sheridan Chamber of Commerce.

Any problems encountered during the cleanup seemed to stem from being too successful. Without being able to predict the future and basing this cleanup on past cleanups, it wasn't surprising that a few processes will need some adjustments.

The city manager planned to meet with Public Works to discuss possible changes and improvements for the next clean-up.

Fire Chief Les Thomas and Fire Board Vice Chair Tammy Heidt helped out at SHS.

25 Delphian students arrived by bus at 10:45 a.m. Saturday ready to hit the streets for clean-up duty.

Extraordinary and Unprecedented Clean-Up Day Success

Trucks and cars filled with items to be disposed of lined up down Sheridan Road last Saturday. The vehicles were all filled with good citizens doing their part to clean up the town and make Sheridan a cleaner, healthier, place to live. At times this line extended from the City's sewer treatment yard at the far east end of Sheridan Road all the way to South Bridge Street. The overwhelming success lead to wait times of up to two hours. City Manager Heidi Bell, who donned her safety vest, and was hands-on helping on Sheridan Road Saturday. She expressed her gratitude for the patience of all (but one) person waiting in the long line.

Rotarians dished out 23 large pizzas, three boxes of donuts, and water, from Rotary's concession trailer to thank all who helped with the cleanup. (Left to right, Kim Taylor, John Stanislaw, Brad Myers, Marianne Thomson, and Marty Shaw.)

Gales Towing and Recovery, Steve Gale and daughter Lindsay, set up a table next to their beautiful tow truck to talk about the City's junk car removal program. The first 30 cars owners who signed up to participate will receive $50 and have their vehicles towed for free thanks to Gales and the City of Sheridan.

Addison Neilson, Esme Henriquez, and Kaitlyn Martinez take attendance of Sheridan High School students who participated in the cleanup. Kids who pitched in earned prom ticket discounts based on hours worked.

Sharon Gault, City of Sheridan Public Works, makes sure safety vests are available for all volunteers.

Interested in Becoming Sheridan's Newest City Council Member?

The Sheridan City Council unanimously agreed to appoint Rich Cox as Sheridan's new mayor at its May 2 council meeting. Rich will complete Mayor Aaron Baer's term, which would have ended on Dec. 31, 2022. Aaron resigned at the April 18 council meeting, effective at the conclusion of the May 2 meeting. Rich's appointment resulted in an open council position which will also expire on Dec. 31, 2022. The council seat is open to the public. Requirements include at least 12 months of residency within the city limits of Sheridan. Applicants must be registered voters. Applications are available online and at Sheridan City Hall. The deadline to submit applications is 4 p.m. on May 18, 2022. The Sheridan City Council will meet at 7 p.m. on May 23 to review applications and appoint the new council member. This seven-month council term will offer a community member the opportunity to "get their feet wet" before deciding whether or not to run for a full four-year term at the end of the year.

The Council unanimously approved giving a used surplus refrigerator to the Grand Sheramina Food Bank. Grand Sheramina Food Bank Manager Judy Adams, who attended the meeting, offered her thanks and the Council received a round of applause.

Mayor Baer stopped the council meeting momentarily to advise a Zoom guest with no apparent manners to either change their user name or leave the Zoom meeting. The unknown individual was slow in following the mayor's direction, and was, therefore, booted off the Zoom meeting by the city recorder. This is the second time this cowardly person has tried to attend council meetings hiding behind the same idiotic and insulting name.

City Public Works Director Kie Cottam reviewed the City's code enforcement procedures. Code compliance staff received 34 reports of concern in April. Kie said most complaints stacking up are related to right-of-way vehicle issues. Kie explained that law enforcement must handle these issues, and they are doing all they can. Kie said code enforcement in Sheridan has been far more active than in the past. He said they have been trying new approaches to see what works best for this community. Anonymous reports of concern are very time-consuming, said Kie. He said they take twice as long as those with a phone number they can call to verify information. In addition, Kie said many complaints are vague, like "red car" or "black pickup" or "long grass," with no address or contact information provided. Kie added, "There's still one subject that needs to be addressed, and that's building codes." Heidi responded with enthusiasm, "I think we should share some really good news tonight! The good news is we have successfully budgeted for a full-time code enforcement position - if the budget passes." Kie said he'd heard a lot of positive feedback from the public lately. "I definitely think that the group in this room has caused a lot of buzz in the community. And for the better. People are supporting the programs. People are supporting the people in this room."

As of 8 a.m. on May 9, Sheridan residents can go to Sheridan City Hall and fill out a card to have their derelict car removed from their property by Gale's Towing. The City is using Gale's Towing for this program only. Gale's Towing will not be doing the tows arranged by the police, who will stick to the county rotation of towing companies. Thirty car owners will receive $50 for participating in this clean-up effort.

Sheridan City Manager Heidi Bell said the community curbside clean-up program, where citizens who need a hand can call public works to have items picked up,

- Granite grave markers of all types - flat and upright
- Quality materials, craftsmanship and service
- Complete arrangements for setting in any cemetery

Here's Your Chance to Try Your Hand for 7 Months

has been too successful. She said they've had to move "numbers 41 through 50" to the week of May 16. She said, "We physically don't have the capacity to handle that much in a day. The success is overwhelming," said Heidi, "And we're learning for next year."

"We are going to have one clean town," said Councilor Roxy Acuff. Willamina High School students made the 30-foot clean-up banners displayed across the Sheridan bridge. The city manager said, "They were a really good deal; they're reusable and get your attention with nice big lettering. They turned out great!" Finally, all council members signed up for various duties on clean-up day.

The City sent a letter to FCI asking them to allow the City to restart the program with their work crews. "Hopefully, with fingers crossed, the warden will allow us to do that," said Heidi. The "speed trailer" the city manager requested has been spotted in various places around town. Councilor Sandy Walker reported that Forest River held an employee meeting regarding driving complaints involving their employees on Sheridan Road.

Sgt. Stackpole will address the Council about programs they will start working on in this area for enhanced safety.

Installation of the new park cameras was expected to be complete the day after the council meeting. The other cameras should be installed within the next couple of weeks.

An update on City-owned property followed. Both tenants are expected to vacate the City's rentals in May and June.

City Attorney Nicholas Peasley and the city manager sent a letter to the owners of 106 S. Bridge Street (old Masonic Lodge). The attorney explained, "The letter we sent out goes active on May 1, so with ten day's notice from that point, on May 11, abatement proceedings, in theory, begin."

The city manager asked the city attorney to prepare an update for the Council's next regular meeting.

A report on the Heider Building revealed that the project is on schedule with hopes to have all of the retail spaces open by August; sooner for the coffee shop. However, progress may not be as fast as many would like to see because of flood permit requirements. Stuck Electric is currently working inside the building.

The Huntley Building has plans to open by Thanksgiving. The owner told Heidi that the plywood should be coming out around June 1.

Another project Heidi said she feels passionate about is bringing all of Sheridan's nonprofits together for a meeting. She would like to hear about their goals, needs, and plans. She would like to see what is available in the community and what they have in common. Heidi wondered if there would be an interest in collaborating on a "mega nonprofit center" where several nonprofits could have their own offices, but share overhead expenses such as electricity, water, sewer, and possibly share a commercial kitchen, meeting space, and conference areas, copiers, etc. Possibly each nonprofit could take turns hosting public events. "Who knows, the sky's the limit, right?" said Heidi with a smile.

House of Representatives District 24 Candidate Lucetta Elmer has Local Roots

Lucetta Elmer, who is proud of her West Valley roots, is currently running for District 24 House of Representatives. She attended the Willamina Chamber meeting last Wednesday and the Sheridan Chamber breakfast meeting last Friday.

Lucetta Elmer is a Willamina High School graduate whose first job was wrapping meat for Augie at The Corner Store (now the IGA) in Willamina. She grew up on Heuser Road with a Sheridan address, so she has fond memories of both communities. She now lives in McMinnville with her husband, Denny, also a Willamina graduate.

The couple has seven family businesses and, Lucetta said, a great life.

The youngest of their four children is preparing to move out soon. Lucetta and Denny have been traveling a little and enjoy this fun new phase of their lives. Rep. Ron Noble, Republican, District 24, approached Lucetta a couple of years ago, before the pandemic when they thought that Sen. Brian Boquist might vacate his seat during the term. If that happened, Rep. Noble said he would be appointed senator, and he would like to appoint her to his position. So Lucetta spent time shadowing him to better understand the job and to find out exactly what he does and if she also believed she would be a good fit. Lucetta said she found it fascinating.

However, Sen. Boquist did not leave, and the pandemic came, and nothing became of the idea. Last fall, Lucetta got another call from Rep. Noble telling her about the formation of Oregon's new Congressional District 6. He told her he planned to run for U.S. Senator and said, "That means you're up."

So she talked the idea over with her family and decided to run. She sees it as her opportunity to give back to Oregon. She said, "I think Oregon has some amazing things, and we have some things that need some work. I think my platform will lean more toward businesses since that's where I'm most interested. Also, my degree is in education. I did spend time teaching, and I have such a heart for children. So I would be very interested if asked to be on an education committee."

In her senior year at Willamina High, Lucetta was chosen as a National Young Leader and traveled to Washington, D. C. This trip was the first time she'd ever been on an airplane.

She said she always liked politics. She usually rises to leadership positions within many civic groups in which she is a member. For example, she chaired the McMinnville Chamber and served as a McMinnville Downtown Association board member. From that, she's gained experience working with people and understands working together to make a community better.

The Elmers own the new RV park under construction in Sheridan. When asked about the Sheridan park, Lucetta said they have several RV parks, one in Washington and the rest in Oregon. The Sheridan park is their first in Yamhill County. She said her husband worked diligently for years to find land with the correct zoning for an RV park because there is such a need. They finally found the Sheridan property, had it locked up, and the next day the building caught on fire. After that, she said it's just been one thing after another.

"Essentially, what happened was we lost our window. The people who should have done all the paving were two weeks late, and then the rains came. We have to have a certain number of dry days and a certain number of days with temperatures above 50 degrees to pour the asphalt. It just feels like it's been the wettest winter in history. We were supposed to be open last year. The latest I've heard is this year by July 1 - if everything goes well."

She said, "We really don't want to miss the season again. There's so much interest; people are so excited. We get calls every day. There are just not many other options, and that's a really nice location. So we are very excited, and we're praying for sunshine. The Valley's Edge RV Park, located at 985 SE Sheridan Road, will offer 109 spaces for nightly and longterm rentals.

Sheridan Rotary will present free kid-friendly walk-in movies that families will love beginning this month. Movies will begin at dusk on the third Saturday of each month from May through October outside at Sheridan High School.

Rotary will break out its brand new popcorn maker this year and will have many more tasty treats for sale from the club's gold and blue concession trailer.

This year's movie line-up:

- May 21: Ghostbusters
- June 18: Spiderman
- July 16: Encanto
- August 20: Shang Chi

Businesses, organizations, and others who'd like to help support these free movies are invited to purchase advertising that will be shown several times on the big screen before the movies begin. The cost is $50 for one movie; $250 for all six (a $50 savings).

The outreach hopes to serve the people of Sheridan, Willamina, Grand Ronde, Buell, Ballston, everyone in the West Valley.

Downtown is a-changin'. I finally paid attention to the changes as I drove through town the other day.

Simply Restored is no longer there, and work is underway on the building's facade. Not sure what it will look like when they're done. Stay tuned.

The Tina Miller Thrift Store has new owners - A.G.I.L.E. I don't know exactly what it is and what it does. I'm waiting for a grand opening.

The EXP Realty has moved to a new location. It's now across the street and about half a block west - just the other side of Odd Fellows Pizza. There are also two new agents.

Meanwhile, Angel Bookkeeping has moved into the old EXP office next to H&R Block. I think they were in Sheridan at one time.

Let's see, oh, Wildwood has new hours and a new menu. They also have an "open mic" on Sunday nights in the lounge. You might want to check it out.

Trying to keep up with all the changes is "What's Up in Willamina."

1950-1960s Kids Loved Heck Harper, the Singing Cowboy

Heck Harper with Zorro in 1958

When television came along in Portland, Heck Harper (Hector Vincent Fleteau) was hired to take his talents on the air with KPTV and appeared as Heck Harper. His first show was The Bar 27 Corral. As foreman of the Bar 27 Corral, Heck sang and told stories of the Old West to children of all ages. Heck demonstrated many talents: he was musically gifted as a singer and guitar player, knew many stories, was an able horseman and a natural with young audiences. Soon, other television programs followed, including "Heck Harper's Cartoon Corral" and "Circle 8 Hoedown." Kids carried wallet cards identifying themselves as "Ranch Hands," members of Harper's big fan club. Television made Heck Harper a local celebrity who was easily identifiable and perennially appearing in rodeos, fairs and in the Portland Rose Festival parade every June. In 1954, he was the grand marshal of the Rose Festival Parade. Heck continued life as a local celebrity and continued to appear in many club dates, restaurants and small venues performing solo or with small combos. He was the grand marshal of the Phil Sheridan Days parade twice in the 1950s-1960s. He passed away in Oregon City at age 79.

FOR LATE AFTERNOON VIEWING -- DON'T MISS "PIONEER CLUB"

A personality ALL children love is Heck Harper... that singing cowboy with his guitar. Heck needs no introduction in Portland because he has been performing for many years for children old and young. Heck is going to have a special club for you to join...so be sure to watch Heck Harper starting Monday, December 17th, so you will get all the details.
