Zeek Linn

Second Vice Commander Certified DAV Service Officer

Hello. My name is Zeek and I am an old U. S. Army combat veteran. Please forgive me and please do not take offense to what I am about to say.

Memorial Day is a very sad time for veterans, but even more so for a combat veteran. We ate, slept, played, drank, and fought side by side with the men and women we served with. We shared a bond of love, faith, trust, and respect for each other. We also watched them fall in battle. They gave their lives to protect us, our country, and each one of you.

Celebrate their lives on Memorial Day, always, please. But please remember it is not a happy day for men and women like me. When you say, "Happy Memorial Day," to us, the first thought that comes to my mind is, "You have no idea what this day is."

I just ask that next year, you think about my words and next Memorial Day, if we pass on the street, say something like, "God bless the men and women who died for me."

This is a hard time. I know for myself that I question why, why did I come home and they didn't. God bless each and every brother and sister who gave their lives for me, this great country, and you. Never forget what Memorial Day represents.

A MESSAGE FROM THE WILLAMINA SCHOOL DISTRICT

It is hard to believe we have wrapped up another school year. Despite the unforeseen circumstances that COVID brought to our daily routines, we were fortunate to keep our doors open throughout the 21-22 school year. While we experienced a shortage of available substitutes, many student and staff quarantines, and ongoing changes to the school and health protocols, we also saw some great successes. For the first time in three years we had a full year of student academic data to review. Despite the attendance concerns, our students reported improved academic gains, even better than pre-COVID years.

Most of this can be attributed to the hard work of our staff and students. Teachers were focused all year on the unfinished learning for our students and focused lessons on the most critical skills needed to grow academically. In addition our graduating class had the highest number of Valedictorian's ever, at eight. Not only did these students all post a 4.0 GPA, but all acquired college credits while earning their high school diploma. One student earned 67 college credits! I want to mention Garrett Hembree, one of our Valedictorian's, his name was missed in the last Bulletin column. Along with his 4.0 GPA he received a Presidential Award and multiple scholarships.

As we move into summer, students will have multiple opportunities to participate in ongoing activities at the school. Families may view the programs offered and sign up their child through our Parent Square app. Our school campus is also happy to be hosting the Art Conspiracy program this summer as well. This two-week program is open to students throughout Sheridan, Amity, Willamina and Grand Ronde.

The campus will be a busy place all summer. Along with student activities we also have some major construction projects underway. As I write our track is in the first phase of a full renovation. We hope to have it completed in time for our first home football game next school year. The middle school will be adding six new classrooms in the near future. We are in the design phase of that project, but plan to break ground and complete site development this summer while the weather is dry.

Have a great summer!

With great Bulldog pride,
Carrie Zimbrick, Superintendent

Contributed by a Bulletin Board Guest Writer

In high school, I was to go right home from school; I didn't get to walk the town with the others from school.

My music teacher lived across the street from me. Her son told her he wanted to take me to a Beaver's game the upcoming weekend, but I had already told him I could not do anything. School and home. That was it.

His mother came to see my dad, and after some lengthy discussions, he gave in. So I was happy to get big Oregon Beaver's pom-poms and snacks, just like a fan. When we arrived at his parents' home after the game, we had pizza and cokes.

He informed me then that I was only allowed to come if his mother promised she wouldn't let me out of her sight.

We stayed overnight with his parents and some of their friends. So the other women had taken me into the bedroom to get ready for bed. They put me in the middle of the bed, and his mother slid in right next to me. Then the other lady got in on the other side; I was sandwiched between the two. I thought, how will I ever get to the bathroom?

When morning finally arrived, we left for home. I was never asked out by him again. However, he did start seeing the girl next door to me, and I watched him walk by my house every evening.

I guess he wanted to keep it in the neighborhood; later in life, he married my friend who had lived in the home behind me.

Ray Allyn Miller

Nov. 11, 1942 - May 26, 2022

Ray A. Miller, 79, a former resident of Salem, late of Forest Grove, died Thursday, May 26, at home.

He was raised in Sheridan and graduated from Sheridan High School in 1960. Ray attended the University of Oregon and received his associate's degree in business.

A celebration of life service is scheduled for Saturday, June 25, 2022, at 11 a.m., at Fuiten, Rose, and Hoyt Funeral Home, 2308 Pacific Ave., Forest Grove. Reverend Richard E. Osburn, a retired minister, will officiate. Full military honors will be under the direction of Martin J. Ryan V.F.W. Post 2666 in Hillsboro.

Ray Allyn Miller was born Nov. 11, 1942, in Portland, the son of the late Bernard Miller and Melba (Whitman) Miller.

He joined the U.S. Army and served during the Vietnam era. He received an honorable discharge on Oct. 26, 1972.

Ray was united in marriage to Cleo I. Bockes on June 30, 1962, in the United Methodist Church in Sheridan. They celebrated their 59th Wedding Anniversary last June. Following their marriage, they resided in Salem.

He owned and operated Spring Crest Drapery Center in Salem for 35 years until retiring in 2012. Ray was also a regional manager for the Northwest and Canada for Spring Crest Drapery Franchises.

During retirement, Ray supported his grandchildren's sports and dance activities through their high school and college years. Ray and Cleo retired to Boquete, Panama, for ten years before returning to Forest Grove in 2021.

Ray was preceded in death by his parents, Bernard and Melba Miller.

Survivors include his wife, Cleo Miller, Forest Grove, son and daughter-in-law, Derek and Poppy Miller, Forest Grove; his daughter and son-in-law, Dana and Tim Phillips, of Kalispell, Mont., and his brother and sister-in-law, Kim and Lea Miller, of Bothell, Wash.

Also surviving are his four grandchildren and their spouses, Chris and Lindsey Miller, of Silverton; Katlyn Miller, of Salem, Hunter Phillips, of Kalispell, Mont.; and Garrett and Amalia Phillips, currently serving in the U.S. Army, stationed at Fort Wainwright in Fairbanks, Alaska, and his niece, Kari Miller, of Portland, Ore., and his nephew, Austin "AJ" Miller, of Tokyo, Japan.

The family suggests remembrances benefit the Oregon State University Men's Lacrosse program.

Fuiten, Rose, and Hoyt Funeral Home handled the arrangements.

Erick K. Bergan

Nov. 18, 1960-May 1, 2022

Erick K. Bergan, a life-long Willamina resident, passed away May 1, 2022. Rick is survived by his loving wife, Alaina Bergan; mother, Elaine Bergan; children, Jason Bergan (Brianne), Brandi Nehrenz (Zach), Jessica Boone (Justin), Cassandra Bergan, Eric Martin, and Isabella Martin; grandchildren, Logan Bergan, Kaylee Bergan, Maverick Bergan, Camden Bergan, Emma Nehrenz, Aly Boone, and Aiden Boone; sisters, Anita Smith, Debbie Clemente (Michael), and Carrie Dowell.

He is preceded in death by his father, Archie Bergan.

On Nov. 18, 1960, Rick was born in Dallas, Ore. He attended school in Willamina, where he excelled in all sports he participated in – football, basketball, and baseball. He started working for Boise Cascade when he was 18 years old and had a 37-year career with them before becoming disabled.

Rick started hunting and fishing with his dad at a young age. His passion was fishing. He spent many hours on the Upper Nestucca enjoying fishing time with family and friends. He enjoyed taking his boat crabbing and shad fishing in more recent years. He taught two generations of young people to fish and hunt.

At home, Rick enjoyed woodworking and gardening. In addition, he lovingly tended the Bergan family homestead, ensuring future generations would have a place to call home.

More than anything, Rick loved his family and was dedicated to teaching his children, grandchildren, and those around him the meaning of hard work and responsibility. His sense of humor was well known and much appreciated. He was a great teller of stories, and his family never tired of listening to them.

In more recent years, Rick had health struggles. He received a kidney transplant in 2018 after years of diabetes took its toll. Rick was grateful to be off dialysis and for his new kidney. Unfortunately, he went into cardiac arrest on April 29, 2022, and spent three days on life support before passing on May 1, 2022. His wife and children surrounded him at the time of his passing. His family dearly loved him, and he loved them. He never tired of telling how much he loved them.

Services were held for Rick on May 13 at Good Shepard Church and the Monroe Event Center in Sheridan. Remembrances may be made in his name to the American Diabetes Association. The family of Erick Bergan encourages you to save a life by becoming an organ donor. For more information, visit donatelifenw.org

Sheridan Legion Riders and

Staci Coker

Sheridan Legion Riders, with the American Legion Post 75, partnered with the Highway 18 Riders group for the second annual bike show to benefit veterans.

Rob Earhart, a longtime member of the Legion, said, "This event is meant to raise funds to help local veterans and bring awareness to the Legion and what we offer. In addition, we're hosting a breakfast starting at 7 a.m. on Hometown Day; a blood drive in July; and hopefully, another on-line auction."

In May, the online auction raised enough money for the Legion to sponsor a senior scholarship for a

Sheridan graduate this year.

"We have a very motivated service officer, Zeek Linn, who offers veteran services, a hot cup of coffee, and someone to talk to from 10 a.m.-2 p.m. every Tuesday."

Several vendors braved the weather, including David Stearns, who owns Treedemption Gardens outside of Sheridan.

Treedemption Gardens is a new, six-acre farm, food forest, garden education center, and nursery. David plans to have a farm stand this year, including tomatoes, cucumbers, lettuce, squash, greens, and more within the next month. He is currently selling starts. They also have a community market where you can purchase tie-dye, stick bugs, crystals, sage, and more.

Eventually, David plans to expand to include trees, berries, herbs, flowers, and workshops in transplanting, pickling, and canning. Treedemption Gardens is open 7 a.m.-7 p.m., seven days a week, on Hwy. 18, next to the Dairy Queen.

Erik and Jesse Hanson, RC Plus Hobbies and Raceway Hobby Shop, Salem, stacked their table with RC cars, trucks, and accessories.

Erik is also a member of the Hwy. 18 Riders. He brought his 105th Anniversary Copper Dyna Low Rider for the bike show.

Kids lined up at the dunk tank to take a shot at Sheridan's own Sam Stewart while the band Copper Ridge played in the background.

American Legion Riders along with the Hwy. 18 Riders group lined up their bikes at the second annual veterans benefit bike show last Saturday.

Cody Janes spent the day selling sweet teriyaki, peppered, and regular flavored beef jerky. He uses Carlton Farms beef and has his own secret recipe.

You've Got Worms

Brad Pederson

My Great Grandmother Ange was a nomad in her later years. During the summers, if she wasn't chasing down swap meet booths on the western side of Washington, she was hosting national campgrounds in the east. If she wasn't living in our yard or helping the ski patrols on Snoqualmie pass in the winters, she was off somewhere living life to the fullest.

Ange was a busy lady with friends from Bellingham to Ashland, Astoria to Coeur d'Alene, always equipped with an idea for the day and a plan to complete it. During my childhood, if we were not out hiking, camping, swap meets, rock hunting off of the side of the highway while drivers gave us the what for, we were dumpster diving and bringing home thrown away baby dolls that, "We can clean up, put a pretty dress on her and give her to your little sister." When we were not doing all of that, we were fishing; she was the one who taught me to fish, not the first one to take me but the one who gave me insight. I remember waking up way too early, so we could stop by Texaco to pick up some night crawlers a good friend of hers used to distribute in the county stores, then we would hit the lakes and streams before the sun came up. I had a great childhood.

One cold fall morning, I woke to discover Grandma had set up camp in our yard while we were all sleeping. I softly raced outside, testing the wind to see who was awake on our property, and wouldn't you know it, Grandma was up walking the dog while coffee was brewing. Her newest grift was this metal garbage can she had on my uncle's property, opposite our house, that she was about to open as I came dressed for the day. "You want to see something?" she asked as I walked up with "good mornings." The garbage can lid revealed a billowing plume of breath smoke. Inside was a moving organism of red brains over-lapping on itself, consuming the newspaper I delivered to the whole neighborhood a day before.

I jumped. She laughed, "They're tiny red worms." In shock, I turned away, gasping for air. "I've been selling worms!" Her exclamation, louder than her usual tone, probably woke up the rest of the property. She then went on to tell me she had been selling worms to start up a business.

These were not the night crawlers I was familiar with hooking. They were smaller, hoarded together in a heaping mass, unlike the four to nine crawlers we would get in Styrofoam containers from Texaco. I will not go into any further details for those soft stomach readers.

Decades later, I now have my own family living in a different but comparably beautiful small town, I have a property, and now I want worms too! So we went to a red worm farm in this great valley, well, that's what I thought the sign said. Come to find out, they do not sell red worms, but instead, they are a boutique soil manufacture distribution center (they do not ever make compost on-site, they truck it in) with a price three times the cost when compared to the Wilco in Mac, who also trucks it in. I bought a quart of worms from a nursery in Portland, wishing I could have found someone in the area who sold them. If there is a company or family in the area selling worms, please email me.

This region does not have yard waste disposal cans. I've noticed that everyone has it hauled away or burns it when the county allows them to. Most of our close neighbors ask us if we want their throwaways before they haul them off. Yes, it does feel strange asking people from down the street to dump their rotten haul in my driveway, but it pays off. Some scraps of wood for burning in the next couple of years, a few apple trees to cure for smoking meat, and a lot of yard clipping waste. "Do you want this trailer full I'm about to take to the mulcher?" "Yes, Sir, I do; how else am I going to follow in the footsteps of my Grandma Ange, terrorizing the children in this neighborhood and feed all these worms at the same time?" One day, I will write a book about Ange, but until then, here's a little snip-it for you. If you are interested in acquiring some red worms, please send an email to youvegottworms@yahoo.com.

WHAT'S UP IN WILLAMINA

by mary jane

You may know, but then again, you may not know.

Kenna West has been the Willamina city manager for the past five years. She's been very pro-Willamina.

She's been awarded several grants for the city. I've heard that it's several million dollars worth. Lots of the potholes have disappeared because of these grants from various sources. She's also improved the water and sewer systems, and those are just a few things this busy lady has done for us.

She and her husband have also redone some of the city hall's interior. It looks very nice in there now.

Sad to say, she has decided to move on. We'll miss her, but her new community will be glad she's there.

Wishing Kenna well is "What's Up in Willamina."

The new service hours may increase to two days per week if additional hours are needed.

The outreach hopes to serve the people of Sheridan, Willamina, Grand Ronde, Buell, Ballston, everyone in the West Valley.

Franklins Ready for Exhibit

A couple who rarely misses a Monday session at the Legion Hall with the Sheridan Artists is Karl and Margaret Franklin of Willamina. Last Monday's gathering found them getting ready for the Phil Sheridan Days Art Exhibit at the Masonic Hall on Friday and Saturday, June 14 and 15. Both paint in oils, with Karl doing mostly landscapes. Margaret has painted many scenes featuring animals, birds and flowers. The Franklins were among Sheridan artists exhibiting at the Meier and Frank store this spring. They have also shown their paintings in one-man shows in this area. A large collection of paintings by local artists have been accumulated for the Phil Sheridan Days Exhibit, which will include watercolor, paintings on velvet, acrylics and oils.

Four lovely ladies who will rule over Phil Sheridan Days met at the Mel Agee home in Sheridan Monday night to try on their Phil Sheridan Days gowns. They are from left, Queen Wendy Anderson, Diana DeHart, April Agee, and Susan Howry. The court will ride in the parade Saturday evening at 6 p.m. and participate in other celebrations during the summer.

Colorful New Mural Taking Shape in Sheridan

A colorful new mural is in the works for Sheridan, thanks to artist Natalie Fletcher and grant funding obtained by the Sheridan Revitalization Movement from the Yamhill County Cultural Coalition, First Federal, and private donations.

The mural is located on the south side of Figaro's Pizza facing SW Monroe Street.

Mandela style artwork is normally circular in nature and often includes intricate patterns, and symbols, which is the main concept of this mural. Painted around the circular pattern are trees, bigfoot, Oregon flowers, birds, and elk heads. The center depicts Sheridan's art deco style bridge.

The mural was not complete when this photo was taken on Monday. The town is eagerly awaiting sunny days that will enable this talented artist to continue the project.

Natalie also painted the Willamina mural painted on the side Dillon's Bar and Grill in late October 2020.
