Yamhill County Commissioners Approve $1.4 Million CTEC Grant

The Yamhill County Board of Commissioners unanimously approved a $1,405,321 grant for the Barbara Roberts Career Technical School. The money is coming from Yamhill County's ARPA allotment dedicated to improving workforce training and development. The school is waiting on the official contract.

"I can't think of a project better suited to have positive generational impact than Sheridan's CTEC school" said Commissioner Lindsay Berschauer.

"This grant will provide the necessary funding for the planning process and starting construction," noted Sheridan School District Superintendent Dorie Vickery. She said the project had been put on hold because project funds had run out.

Dorie also submitted a request for $1.5 million for senator earmarked dollars which should arrive next year.

Construction costs have increased dramatically since the project began. The initial construction estimate of $10 million, has increased to $14 million.

"The project will be done in stages," said Dorie. "The District is currently working with a contractor on flood plain issues. Holes will need to be drilled and other issues worked out. The cost for this contract alone is $25,000."

Dorie said we should have a better idea of construction costs in the fall. She added, "With the other funds coming in we can at least start construction."

A sink hole, approximately eight feet wide by six feet deep, opened up on the east side of South Bridge Street at about 1:30 p.m. last Sunday after a void under the asphalt collapsed. The hole was close to the bridge near the IGA parking lot on Yamhill County property. Sheridan Public Works Director Kie Cottam responded quickly after receiving a call from an off-duty public works employee. Sheridan Public Works placed barricades around the hole as a safety precaution until the County crew responded at around 3:30 p.m. and filled the hole.

Legion Riders Invite Public to Flag Ceremony

Post 75 American Legion Riders invite the public to a flag replacement ceremony to begin at 1 p.m. on July 24 at the Veterans Memorial Park in Sheridan. The event is open to all veterans, motorcycle riders, and community members.

Should You Run for Mayor or City Council?

Have you taken the time to weigh out the pros and cons of serving on the City Council or running for mayor?
Will you get keys to the city? No, probably not.
Will you make big bucks? No. Unless you consider $75 per year life-changing income.
Will you get a fancy car and chauffeur? No, not unless you've been drinking heavily.
Will a chip be inserted behind your ear magically giving you the knowledge of everything happening in the city? No. This information will need to be acquired the old-fashioned way through research, reading, and communication.

The role of a city councilperson is to provide leadership and support for the community. It may not take a magic chip, but it takes energy, considerable time, and a willingness to listen and learn. Potential candidates may wish to begin attending council meetings now, so, if elected, they take on the job with an understanding of agenda items and are ready to participate. To qualify to seek elected offices in Sheridan and Willamina, candidates must be registered voters who have lived within the city limits for at least 12 months immediately preceding the election. All terms begin on Jan. 1, 2023. The Oath of Office will be administered at the first regular meeting of the Councils in January 2023. All positions are four year terms. Application forms and further information are available on both the City of Sheridan and City of Willamina websites. The filing deadline in Willamina is 4 p.m. on Friday, Aug. 16. The filing deadline in Sheridan is 4 p.m. on Friday, Aug. 29. Residents of both cities will vote for mayor and three councils seats on their Nov. 8 ballots.

Joe Justin to Perform July 8 at Grange Hall

Joe Justin will play at the Mc-Minnville Grange at 7:30 p.m. on July 8, 22, and 29 (Fridays), and at 1 p.m. on Sunday, July 10. He will play 1.5 hours, then take a half-hour break for the potluck, before returning to the stage for more music and dancing. The public, including children, are welcome to attend. Smoking and alcohol are not permitted.

Teacher Jennifer Stanislaw's Students Earn the Gold

Jennifer Stanislaw lives in Sheridan and has taught emergency services, including EMT and fire science, at West Salem High School since 2013.

With more than 50 years of combined fire and EMS experience, John and Jennifer Stanislaw own and operate Air Safety Northwest in McMinnville.

Jennifer took two of her Salem students, Natalie Stauffer and Alexis Williams, to Atlanta, Georgia, to compete nationally from June 20-24.

The students had already won the competition for the Oregon State Championship last April. Winning the state championship is required to compete nationally.

"Both Oregon national champion students took the gold and received complete tool sets that will be really useful for students soon to take on the real world," said Jennifer.

In Atlanta, the two students took professional skills tests, provided resumes, wore their uniforms, and were judged on appearance and meeting uniform standards. In addition, they took a written test encompassing the entire nine-month EMT course. After taking the written test, they demonstrated their practical skills, such as splinting, airway management, and much more.

Judges included representatives of Grady Ambulance and the Atlanta Fire Department.

SkillsUSA, which sponsors the competition, is a partnership of students, teachers, and industry working together to ensure America has a skilled workforce. Jennifer explained that they want students to be technically proficient in their chosen technical education profession. In addition, they want to ensure students have the professional skills to be successful, such as showing up for work on time, having a professional resume, and mastering the interview process.

"SkillsUSA covers everything from cake decorating to welding to automotive repair - all across the USA. Every state has a chapter, including Oregon. Some chapters around the state are very active, including West Salem," said Jennifer.

Students took advantage of their free time in Atlanta to tour the Coca-Cola Museum and visit its tasting station, featuring every product Coca-Cola sells in many different countries.

They also visited the Georgia Aquarium.

SkillsUSA also offers evening events, so the kids were treated to hip-hop star Flo Rida from Florida. The hip-hop star censored his lyrics so that the performance was appropriate for students.

Jennifer said she enjoyed getting to know her students better. "They're good kids. High flyers. Humble. Hard workers," said Jennifer.

Willamina City Council Focuses on Development Codes

April Carothers

Willamina City Council meeting highlights for July 12 included the formal swearing in of new City Councilor Vickie Hernandez. The main agenda item was Legislative Amendment File LA 2021-02 which is a package of proposed amendments to the Willamina Development Code that ensure its consistency with the new 2022 Willamina Transportation System Plan (TSP). Holly Byram, associate planner with the Mid-Willamette Valley Council of Governments was on hand to explain the package to the Council.

The State of Oregon has 19 statewide planning goals that encompass citizen involvement, land use planning, housing, economic development, agriculture, forest, oceans and rivers, air and water quality, and more.

A full list can be found on the Oregon Planning Department of Land Conservation and Development website, on their page "Oregon's Statewide Land Use Planning Goals." There is a link at the bottom of the page to view a PDF that explains each of the 19 goals. The easiest way to find it may be to type Oregon Statewide Land Use Planning Goals into a computer browser. Your local library can help if necessary. The City's planning goals criteria come directly from these 19 statewide goals. The City's new TSP was developed with this guidance and plans for the next two decades of growth for Willamina, taking into account the needs of the public, not just vehicles: pedestrians, bicycles, skateboarders, cars, trucks, commercial rigs, etc.

Change may be stressful, but the City Council is working hard to polish their development code and new TSP into something that serves everyone. For example, there are rules for new developments that take into account both the needs of developers and private citizens.

Multiple public hearings have been held and more are planned, but so far there has not been a lot of public participation.

Interested parties can find the exact wording of Willamina's Development Code on the website, but it's easier to type the phrase into a browser and search. Willamina's TSP can also be found with a search for the phrase "Willamina Transportation System Plan 2022."

The meeting wrapped up with reports from various officers. The takeaway is that there's a lot happening. The City's website is under construction, but there is a lot of information available there such as the Community Events Calendar (www.willaminaoregon.gov/community-events).

A Message from the Sheridan Superintendent

Sheridan Families,

Summer days are moving along with FCS enrichment camps and SHS credit recovery. It is great to see students around the schools this time of year! And it won't be long until school administrators and office staff return, the start of preparing for the 2022-23 school year.

As we look to August, here are a few updates about some of our district initiatives:

School-based health center planning grant: We will start holding focus groups as part of the needs assessment. The focus groups will include parents, community members, and health care providers. The needs assessment will need to be completed by December 31, 2022.

Barbara Roberts Career Technical Education Center: The District was recently awarded $1.4 million from the Yamhill County Board of Commissioners, funds dedicated to workforce training and development. These funds, along with anticipated federal support, will be used to complete the planning process and begin construction!

2022 Bond Levy: Our planning is well underway for the 2022 Bond Levy. A careful analysis shows that with voter approval, we can have a $16 million bond and keep property taxes about the same as they are now. The District is in position to acquire an additional $4 million from the state, a grant dedicated to capital improvements. The $20 million will add secure entrances to FCS and SHS, along with several other safety and security improvements. Additionally, we will renovate both old gymnasiums, giving the community four fully functioning gymnasiums to hold large events. We will also expand our Career Tech Education programs, providing our students with critical job training.

These initiatives rely heavily on community support. I'm thankful that we have parents and community members partnering with us to improve the learning experience for our students.

Hollis (Holly) Colleen Nelson

Sept 24, 1954-July 14, 2022

Hollis (Holly) Colleen Nelson passed away on Wednesday, July 14, at home with her cherished family around her. Daughter of Bruce and Betty Graves of Sheridan, Holly was born on Sept. 24, 1954.

She graduated from Sheridan High School with the class of 1972 and from Oregon State University, class of 1977. While attending OSU, Holly's focus on journalism and photography opened the door to new opportunities in the newspaper field, corporate marketing, public relations, graphic design, and real estate. She led a full and adventurous life, always looking for the next new thing.

Shortly after graduating with her degree from OSU, Holly began working at the McMinnville News-Register, taking on roles as a reporter and photographer before becoming an award-winning journalist and editor. Her next adventure led her to Evergreen International Aviation, where she was a corporate marketing and advertising manager for over 15 years. Holly's keen eye and passion for graphic design inspired McGrafix, one of her many small businesses.

The proverbial "band geek," Holly played trumpet in the OSU marching band. Throughout the years that followed her undergraduate studies, she remained involved and connected to the band program, playing trumpet in both the One More Time Around Marching Band and the OSU Alumni Marching Band. Holly also taught swim lessons at Osborn Aquatic Center in Corvallis and, in her free time, loved gardening, cooking, and planning her next party. Holly raised her family not far from where she grew up, sharing with them a deep sense of family connection, community, and Dutch heritage. Holly is survived by her mother, Betty Graves; siblings, Randon Graves and Royce Graves (Mary); three children, Keri Tripiano, Alison Ocampo (Randy), and Brandon Nelson; grandchildren, Teagan and Annemieke Ocampo; and numerous beloved extended family members.

She is preceded in death by her husband, Rick Nelson, her father, Bruce Graves, her sister-in-law Connie Graves, and son-in-law Mario Tripiano.

A viewing will be held at Macy and Son Funeral Home in McMinnville on Wednesday, July 20, from 4-7 p.m. Graveside services will follow on Thursday, July 21, at 1 p.m. at Green Crest Cemetery in Sheridan. A gathering and refreshments will follow.

Buell Grange Launches Membership Drive

The Buell Grange, established in 1963, is an agricultural-based community organization whose membership is open to the general public at 5970 Mill Creek Road.

The annual membership fee is $50, and there are no special requirements to join. In fact, paid members will receive a one-time half-price rental of the hall each year - a savings of $87.50. The hall is available for rent when not used for grange activities. The cost is $175 per day or $200 per day for those who wish to use the stove and refrigerator. A $200 deposit is refundable for those who leave the grange in pre-use condition with all trash hauled away. The hall includes a large dance floor with a stage, chairs, tables, and a fully-equipped kitchen suitable to prepare meals for most any size reunion, gathering, or conference. In addition, the beautiful Buell Park is next to the grange. Joe and Janet play for free (donations for expenses accepted) from 5-8 p.m. every Thursday, a perfect time to check out the hall and kick up your heels.

Memories:

Souvenirs our hearts collect throughout the years.

Contributed by a Bulletin Board Guest Writer

My first car was a 1939 Chevrolet Coupe, stick shift, black with red and white upholstery. I lived in West Salem with my great aunt and worked at the cannery.

I always took great care of my car. I got it just before my 18th birthday.

I used to walk past this service station before I owned the car and had become familiar with the owner. I would walk to the post office every day, and we would wave and say hi. After that, I tried to patronize the 76 Station.

One day, in conversation, I said I should wash my car, but I didn't know how to go about it. I had heard black cars tended to streak if done wrong.

The owner told me to bring it into one of the stalls so I could polish it out of the weather and sun.

He told me never to do more than an inch-sized area at a time, never rub it in both directions, and always use a soft cloth to avoid streaks.

At the time, I was very naive; I started in on the car, going to the station every afternoon when I worked the 11 p.m.-7 a.m. shift.

I had been working on the car for a week or so when an officer stopped and saw me there one day. He thought I had been there a long time, and I figured seeing me there in the stall every day for a week made him curious.

He came over to visit and asked, "What are you doing there, young lady?"

I replied I was waxing my car and explained I didn't want a streaky job and was using the method taught by the station owner.

The officer walked immediately to the station owner's office and closed the door. I heard him ask the owner how long he thought it would be before I caught on to what he was doing.

When the officer left that day, I went straight in to find out what was happening.

It turns out it was just a way to have my company each afternoon and not to make me feel foolish.

Needless to say, I did have the best polish job out of every one.

Revitalization Movement Hosts Chamber Breakfast

The Sheridan Chamber of Commerce welcomed a full house at its July 15 breakfast meeting at the Monroe Event Center.

Sheridan Revitalization Movement hosted a delicious breakfast of parfaits, breakfast burritos, fresh fruit, hot coffee, and more.

While everyone was finishing their breakfast, a round of “name the familiar faces” challenged attendees to shout out the names of Sheridan people whose faces were being shown on a large projector screen. It was a tight race, but Jim Buckles took the win in the final elimination round.

Chamber President Staci Coker invited each of the 28 people seated around the large square of tables to take a couple of minutes to talk about their businesses and organizations or make announcements.

One of the benefits of hosting Chamber meetings is the allocation of more time to speak. The hosting Revitalization Movement used its time to discuss the organization’s goals and achievements.

Jim Buckles, Revitalization’s sergeant-at-arms, served as spokesperson for the group, which he noted, launched in 2016 and has since become a 501(c)(3) non-profit.

Reviewing Revitalization’s projects and accomplishments, Jim listed their sponsorship and assistance with twice-yearly citywide cleanups since 2017. They’ve also pitched in to help individuals unable to clean up their yards and those who need help getting heavy items to the curb for pickup.

With its membership in Oregon Main Street, the movement obtained a $200,000 grant to help restore the Heider building in downtown Sheridan.

Murals are another Revitalization project. The group commissioned the new mural on Monroe Street.

Jim noted, “The mural has been well-received by the public. It is the first of many murals we intend to have painted around Sheridan. We are already discussing our next mural project and would like community ideas and opinions.”

Sheridan Revitalization is seeking new members to join its efforts. The next meeting will begin at 6 p.m. on Thursday, Aug. 4, at the Monroe Event Center. All interested are welcome to attend. (Because the Monroe Center will close at the end of August, Revitalization will announce a new meeting location before the September meeting.)

WHAT'S UP
by mary jane

I've heard about it, so I just had to check it out myself. It's what I'd call "The Clean Corner" in Willamina. It's relatively new but has been there a few months.

There's a car wash. It's been there a while. I checked it out, and it offers all kinds of cleaning stuff for your vehicle. There's presoak, tire and engine cleaning, a foam brush, wax, and rinse. Each of these has its own setting. Just put in the proper number of coins or use your credit card. There's a vacuum station close by, too.

Then there's the laundromat. Who wants to drive around in dirty clothes after giving their vehicle a good cleaning? There are nine shiny washing machines and eight dryers. There's a coin vending machine in case you didn't bring the right amount of coins. Oh, they also have a vending machine with soap, bleach, softener, and laundry bags. If all this cleaning makes you hungry, there's also a snack machine. I think they've just about thought of everything.

Oh, wait a minute. Here's something I've never seen before - a pet wash. You don't want to put a dirty doggie in your nice clean vehicle, do you? I guess the people who put this place together on Main Street didn't want to. So now you've got it all in one spot at Main and E Streets right here in Willamina. Getting clean is "What's Up in Willamina."

Willamina's 4th of July Committee Thanks All Volunteers and Donors

The Old-Fashioned Fourth of July celebration in Willamina was a huge success, said members of the Fourth of July Committee, thanks to generous donations from several people and organizations.

The committee thanks Hampton Lumber Co., First Federal's Sheridan branch, Willamina Coastal Hills Chamber, Diane Highberger, Daryl Hamilton, Rolly Heuser, Coyote Joe's, Hagan Hamilton Insurance, Willamina Economic Improvement District, Hall Cement Pumping, The Bulletin Board, Red Crab Rentals, Jeff Brown, and the City of Willamina.

Many others donated either time or money to the celebration (which is an all-year-long process), including Fourth of July Committee members: Jack Scott, director; Donna Samson; Clyde and Sherry Dawkins, mud drags; Jennifer Colton, fireworks; Jency Rosasco, vendors; Debbie and Steve Abrames, parade coordinators; Ginny Wymore, advertising; Herman and Barb McCoy, arm wrestling (2023); Mary Jane Hollinger; Renny and Mary Otjen, car show; Donnette Spaulding, car show; Steve Bobb, car show; T.J. Wilson and students, car show and trophies; Jami Fluke, Willamina High School; Jason Skyberg; Dave Franzen; Tom Colblentz; Phil Lybarger; Assistant Fire Chief Damon Schulze; and local sheriff's departments.

Tax-deductible donations may be mailed to Willamina 4th of July Committee, P.O. Box 1081, Willamina, OR 97396.

Man on the Street: Should 18-Year-Olds be Allowed to Vote?

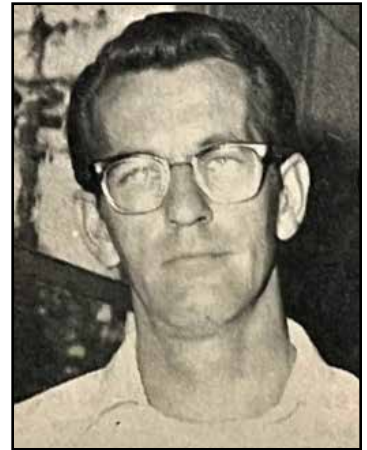

Robert Soules

Wayne Potter

Wilma Nisly

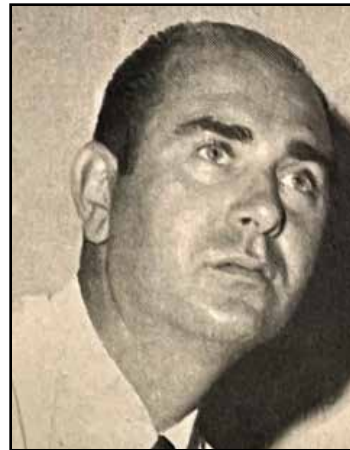

Ray Brudnok

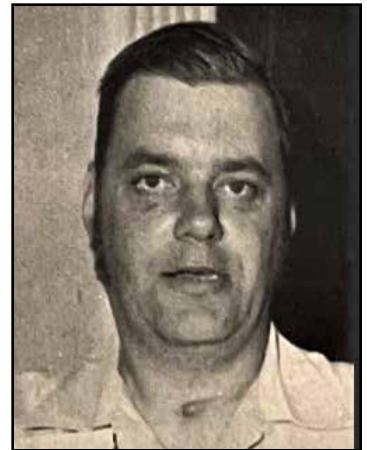

Otto Heider

Wendy Anderson

Werner Stork

Howard Wilmarth

Miss Wendy Anderson, 18, Willamina, agreed when she stated, "18-year-olds should be able to vote. We are as well informed as the 21-year-olds and up. If 18-year-olds can be drafted, they should be able to vote."

Willamina businessman, Howard Wilmarth was also in favor when he said, "Basically, I think I'm for 18-year-olds voting. Most, at 18 today, are mature enough. They see enough news which gives them as much information as people older."

When asked his views on the subject, Robert Cole, a local businessman, stated "Yes, I'm in favor of 18-year-olds being allowed to vote. They have to do most other things that make them adults - serving in the Armed Forces, driving automobiles, and other things that apparently are necessary today. I feel that the voting age is an establishment of the age of responsibility and feel the young people of today are more responsible than of years back."

Willamina housewife, Mrs. Joan Butler, thinks "some people believe that today's youngster is better informed, which may be true," she added. "Because of draft laws," she continued, "They may be okay to vote, but I believe that further education, formal or otherwise, should take place. I believe 18 is just too young."

Mrs. Joy Macprang, a local housewife disagreed. "They aren't mature enough," she said. "They tend to think they are an authority on everything at that age. They tend not to study the issue deep enough. They jump into things without thinking," she concluded. "I think 21 is soon enough."

Otto Heider, "I believe 21 is soon enough to vote. Although the youngsters are well informed today, I believe they are not quite mature enough to make intelligent decisions on issues present in politics."

Werner Stork says, "I think the 18-year-old needs a little "seasoning" away from the home before he should be able to vote. Experience, it seems to me, is still the best teacher and three additional years past 18 would provide benefits in making choices necessary in voting."

Bill Ogden, student body president at Sheridan high school, says that he believes that an 18-year-old is just as qualified at that age as at 21. "His intelligence is established by then and he won't be any more interested later," he said.

"I'm not in favor of lowering the voting age," says Mrs. Alvin Nisly. "I don't think that at 18 they are mature enough. They are too easily swayed by popular opinion rather than by thinking things through for themselves. I believe they are being pushed into maturity too much in every area and are not given a chance to grow up."

Wayne Potter, local groceryman stated, "I think they are more qualified at 18 than 32. They know more about the politicians and issues then, than I do now. With working full time and other time-consuming activities, I had more time then to be exposed to politics. The kids today, I think, know more than 25 years ago." Robert Soules, 16, a Grand Ronde high school student said, "Yes, I do think 18-year-olds should be allowed to vote. I believe that this younger generation is more aware and better informed on the world situation than past generations. After all, we have to live in this world in years to come, so we should have some say on how our world is being shaped."

When asked, Mrs. Lucy Wilkins, a journalist from Grand Ronde, stated emphatically, "No." She continued, "I have two reasons. One, at that age a person's education is not matched by a corresponding amount of wisdom. Two, his philosophy is influenced too much by others and does not reflect truly their own views."

Willamina grocery store employee, Ray Brudnok said, "If they're old enough to fight and die for their country, they are old enough to vote. They're a lot more mature than they were 20 or 30 years ago."
