Thanks for the Good Warm Welcome and Wishes

Staci Coker

As most of you know, I had the pleasure of working under Marianne for more than three years; when the opportunity arose to continue this paper and serve the community in the same way, it was an automatic yes from me. I have enjoyed meeting everyone and look forward to continuing the same traditions and community-first attitude you have had from Marianne. My partner in this venture, Nicole Pugh, will be an excellent fit in this endeavor. While it is impossible to fill Marianne's shoes, we look forward to working hard and keeping the values she held so high these last eight years. Our office hours have changed. We are now open 11 a.m.-5 p.m., Monday through Friday. If you need after hours assistance, give us a call. We are happy to accommodate you at any time. I thank Marianne for everything she has taught me. We wish her the best in her new quest as the mayor of Sheridan. Nicole and I look forward to serving you.

Jan. 9, 1937 - Jan. 3, 2023

Robert (Gypsy) Necas, loving husband, father, grandfather, and great-grandfather, died peacefully at his home in Sheridan on Tuesday, Jan. 3, 2023. Gypsy was born Jan. 9, 1937, in Eagle Nest N.M, the son of Louis Necas and Louise (Henderson) Necas.

He always said that Friday the 13th was his lucky day, and on Friday, May 13, 1988, he married his wife, Paula.

Gypsy was a mill-worker, working in the timber industry for many years. His last job was as a custodian at Sheridan High School.

He loved the outdoors, black powder shooting, rendezvous, and building his trikes.

The last trike appeared at bike shows held during Sheridan Days and Sheridan Hometown Days.

Gypsy touched many lives and will be missed. He leaves behind his wife of 34 years, Paula; son, Matthew Necas (Nicole); son, Greg Necas; daughter, Carrie Mae Holmes; son, Alix Necas (Tammy); son, Jimmy Joe Yslas, and grandchildren, and great-grandchildren. He was preceded in death by his parents and one daughter, Sheila Bowen.

Darwin Eldon Grimm

Dec. 7, 1932 – Dec. 26, 2022

I know obituaries are supposed to be about that person who is no longer physically in our lives and never will be again. But the life we honor would never have happened without the presence and unwavering support of his beloved wife, Gwen Grimm, who went to her heavenly reward 17 months prior in May 2021. Gwen enveloped every accomplishment Darwin achieved in his extraordinary and long life.

He started his life, one he describes as being extremely blessed by God, in Weippe, Idaho. His family nicknamed him "Cub" because he was chubby, like a baby cub bear. The name stuck with him throughout his life. His dad was a barber, and his mom was a housewife. In his pre-teen and teen years, the family, including his younger brother, Ron, lived in Lewiston, Idaho, where his heart still considered home. He was a self-described obnoxious, foul-mouthed liar, cheater, and selfish person with a bad temper and negative attitude. Sports were his religion, and he excelled at basketball, baseball, and track. Little did he realize his junior year in high school, 1950, was to be the pivotal year that would change the trajectory of his life. Two things occurred: It was the first time he laid eyes on Gwen Nichols, a freshman and "the most beautiful girl I had ever seen," and second, he became a Christian, which changed him profoundly.

During his senior year of high school, he felt called to become a minister because of his devotion to God. He knew his purpose in life was to inspire, motivate and encourage others to experience the richness and rewarding blessings God promised those who will trust and obey His word and will.

After high school, he worked as a lumber grader in Lewiston for one and a half years, and during that time, on June 2, 1953, he and Gwen married two days after she graduated from high school. Together they shared a life devoted to God for 68 years. He started preparing for the ministry in 1954 by attending George Fox College in Newberg, Ore., on a sports scholarship. During his four years at GFC, he again excelled at basketball, baseball, and track and was selected as one of the first inductees into George Fox's Sports Hall of Fame in 1996.

After graduation from GFC, he worked in his father's barber shop in Lewiston, Idaho, until 1962, when he and the family moved to Jennings Lodge, Ore., so Darwin could attend Western Evangelical Seminary to study to become a minister. Having a family to feed, he worked on the dock at Garrett Freightlines full-time while attending WES.

After graduating from WES, he joined the Church of the Nazarene as a minister and was known as a church builder. He doubled or tripled every Oregon church he pastored: Grand Ronde, Prineville, West Moreland, and finally, Sheridan. He also brought his extensive collection of free weights to every church and created a gym. While sports and weightlifting dominated his free time, his ministry for God was number one, and he used his love of sports as an outreach to his church congregations and communities by coaching and training. At Grand Ronde, he created the Christian Olympics, and six Oregon Nazarene churches competed in numerous sporting events, as well as singing and bible quizzing. While in Prineville, he trained a powerlifting team of guys and gals and organized Pacific Northwest-wide powerlifting meets. He continued his sports and fitness outreach ministry at West Moreland Church of the Nazarene. While at Sheridan Church of the Nazarene, in addition to being their full-time pastor and maintaining a fitness center, he trained Sheridan High School track athletes thanks to Barb Justin after she saw him doing his track training at the high school. In Sheridan, he was known as the "Running Rev."

After he retired from the ministry, he devoted more time to competing in national senior adult track meets in eight states from Canada to California. His diligent training paid off with over 300 medals, 75 percent of those being 1st place medals. He also umpired and refereed school and community softball and basketball games in the Willamette Valley. Only a few 80-year-olds choose to run up and down a basketball court filled with middle schoolers. His coaching reputation also led him to train track athletes at the Sheridan Delphian School. He says his first year there, at age 85, was the most thrilling, exciting, successful track coaching season of his life. To his church and sports successes, he gave all the glory to God.

He is preceded in death by his beloved wife, Gwen, and brother, Ron. He is survived by his son, Gary, daughter, Janice McGinty (Davis), one grandson, Lee, and a 90-pound pitbull.

While we deeply mourn his loss, it is difficult also not to feel joy, as if the two feelings are mixed like a recipe - difficult to separate the flour from the sugar. He is now with his Lord and Savior and the love of his life, Gwen.

A Message from the Sheridan Superintendent

Sheridan Families,

Welcome to 2023! Here are a few updates regarding the projects underway in Sheridan School District.

School Bond May 2023

I am working with the School Board and community members to update our school bond language and develop a stronger campaign plan. In addition, we have been approved by the state to receive the $4 million capital improvement grant, which will be in addition to the amount approved by voters. More information will be coming out in the next few weeks!

School-Based Health Services Grant

At the December School Board meeting, the Board approved the committee recommendation to implement a nursing model. Phase 2 of the grant begins this month, and we will have until June 30, 2023, to develop our implementation plan. The nursing model will provide our community with a second nurse to act as a connection between Sheridan families and healthcare resources.

Staffing Changes

We have experienced some mid-year staffing changes and need more substitutes. We have filled the middle school science position, which allows us to offer science during the second semester. We also added a fourth-grade teacher to address large classes and hired a K-5 PE teacher. The previous K-5 PE teacher applied and was offered the high school PE teaching position.

Barbara Roberts Career Technical Education Center

In June 2021, the District received notification that the state legislature approved $1.9 million to purchase the property. Since then, we have been seeking funding for the continuation of the project. This fall, we received $1.4 million from the Yamhill County Board of Commissioners. The funds are being used to complete the design phase and create the Tech Center's construction plans. By the end of February, we should be 75% through the design phase and have a 3-D rendering of the building, along with the site plan. Once we are at that stage, we can determine the construction cost. To this point, our construction budget has been a very rough estimate.

This project is challenging and complex. Turning a vacant manufacturing plant into a career tech center takes work! However, a large team is working to make this project a reality, a regional center to prepare high school students and adults for the workforce. As I continue to attend meetings, it has become more and more evident that companies in the area cannot find people to hire. The Barbara Roberts CTEC will align with industry needs and provide the skills and knowledge needed to enter the workforce.

It is important to note that while this project will serve Sheridan High School students, it will not be part of the May 2023 school bond. Instead, the Barbara Roberts CTEC project is made possible through state and federal funding, grants, and private donations.

Along with these projects, we continue to focus on improving our school learning environment, evidenced by increased student attendance and a reduction in behavior referrals. We are also developing an instructional system of how teachers respond when students, evidenced by assessments, struggle to learn. Providing student feedback, using assessments, and reteaching with different strategies are all critical to improved student learning.

January 2023 is here, and Sheridan School District continues to focus on meeting the needs of our students by creating a welcoming school climate, improving instruction, and providing programs that serve our students and the community.

Thank you for partnering with us!

WHAT'S UP IN WILLAMINA

by mary jane

Hey, did I miss January? I'm seeing Valentine's goodies in most of the stores already. Isn't Valentine's Day in the middle of February?

It's not a bad thing - allllll that chocolate on the shelf for us to choose from. Yummy! There's quite a variety right now before it all gets picked over, and you miss that special something you want to give that special someone, even if it's yourself. Enjoy January. It could be the start of something big but do plan ahead for Valentine's Day. Trying to keep up with the holiday times is "What's Up in Willamina."

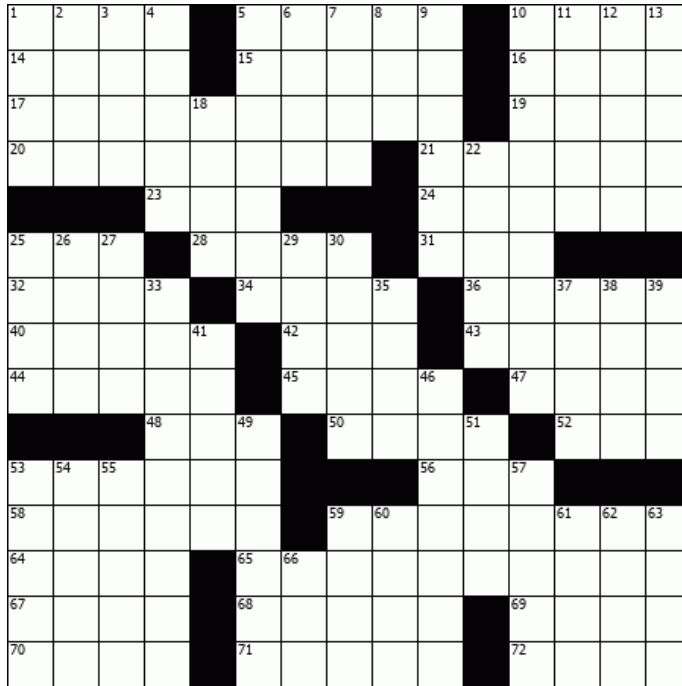

Warm Fuzzies

Northwest Senior and Disability Services (NWSDS), Sheridan's senior meal program would like to send a huge "Thank You" to Pat Cully for her many years of service. Pat has been the nutrition site coordinator and volunteer driver for many years. NWSDS cannot thank her enough for all her community contributions. She made a considerable difference and positively impacted so many lives. NWSDS wish Pat many happy adventures in her retirement and want her to know how much she will be missed.

State Urges Home Radon Testing During Radon Action Month

The best time to test for radon is during the heating season – the winter months – when windows and doors are closed tight. It's why Oregon Health Authority (OHA) recognizes National Radon Action Month during January by encouraging people to test their homes for the odorless, tasteless, invisible gas. Many parts of Oregon remain at risk of high radon, a naturally occurring radioactive gas that comes up from the ground and is drawn into buildings, where it can build up to dangerous levels. The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) estimates radon is responsible for more than 20,000 lung cancer deaths per year in the United States. Radon is the second leading cause of lung cancer behind smoking, and it's the leading cause of lung cancer among non-smokers.

But people can take steps to reduce their exposure to radon by testing their homes for the gas and, if necessary, hiring a professional to reduce radon to a safe level.

"Now, more than ever, we are spending more time in our homes. That means more exposure to potentially high radon levels," said Jara Poppinga, OHA's Radon Awareness Program coordinator. "The only way to know if you have a high radon level is to test. The best time to test for radon is during the heating season or colder months when the windows and doors are closed for long periods of time."

Many test kits are priced between $20 and $30 and can be found in most hardware stores or available for purchase from online retailers. High radon levels can be fixed by a certified radon professional for a cost similar to that of common home repairs ranging between $2,000 and $3,000, such as painting or having a new water heater installed.

The Radon Awareness Program collects radon test data from test kit manufacturers to understand which areas of the state have the potential for high radon levels and to identify regions where educational outreach efforts need to be focused. The program is offering a free radon test kit to residents whose homes are in ZIP codes with fewer than 20 radon test results. Residents can learn more about the free radon test kit program and how to apply at www.healthoregon.org/radon.

Free test kits are available while supplies last.

For more information on which areas of the state are at moderate to high risk of elevated radon levels, radon testing and mitigation or to order a test kit online, contact the Radon Awareness Program at radon.program@state.or.us or visit www.healthoregon.org/radon.

Storm Causes Major Damage

RED PRAIRIE - The storm Thursday caused considerable damage in the Red Prairie district. Prune trees were blown down on several farms; 26 in the Lawrence Woodall orchard. Shingles were torn off the building housing 45 hundred month old chickens on the A. Billington farm. While repairing the roof, Mr. Billington slipped and fell to the ground, breaking his foot. Mr. Repplinger and son and L.W. Nickerson and son fixed the roof. Mr. and Mrs. Billington appreciate their neighbors' help very much.

A large oak tree was felled by the wind in the yard at the W.P. Clore home, Mr. Clore had thought of taking the tree down but hesitated as there was only one place it could fall without hitting the building. The wind luckily hit in that spot.

Mr. and Mrs. W.A. Asbury drove to the coast Thursday to see the ocean during the storm. At Nelscott they saw logs that waves threw over the seawall.

PORCH ON THE HOME of Mr. and Mrs. D.E. Blanchard in the Harmony district southwest of Sheridan was damaged as well as the roof of the house in the severe wind storm early Thursday morning, January 7. Pictured above are Mr. and Mrs. Blanchard surveying the damage to the home when a huge oak tree, five-feet in diameter split and came crashing down on the porch. Damage was caused about 4 a.m. The Blanchard home is one of the older houses in the area being built more than 80 years ago. Mr. and Mrs. Blanchard bought the farm six years ago. It is known as the John Guttry farm. Mr. Blanchard worked on the farm many years and always had a strong desire to be its owner.

Look at the Grocery Bill - A Guide

Let's look at the grocery bill. We are not trying to avoid answering a question of food costs, when we say, "That depends on the income, size of the family, age of the family members, their food habits, and likes and dislikes."

As a buying guide, the U.S. Department of Agriculture issues figures to show that in 1952, a city family of four could be fed for $20.00 to $22.00 a week. This was the low cost budget. A moderate budget would allow $28.00 to $30.00 a week for a family of four.

The low cost budget allows only $5.00 to $5.50 to feed one person for a week. The moderate budget allows only $7.00 to $7.50 to feed one person for a week.

It is possible to provide good and adequate food for a family of four on $3.00 to $4.00 a day. This takes careful management of the food dollar. By management we mean careful and deliberate planning, buying, preparing, and serving. The process is not complete until the food is served and eaten and the leftovers planned for another meal. To the homemaker, management of the food dollar means serving meals that:

1. Taste good and look good.
2. Provide the proper food nutrients-- protien, vitamins, and minerals.
3. Supply the necessary calories for each member of the family.
4. Fit the family budget -- for time, energy, and money.

Local Cub Scouts Face Disbandment Unless Leader Found Soon

Sheridan's outstanding Cub Scout organization is threatened with non-existence unless some man in the community can be found who will assume the job of cub-master, it was learned this week from PTA officials, the sponsoring organization of Cub Scouts in Sheridan, Bob Wells, who is credited with doing a major job in building up the pack, has been forced to resign due to the pressure of business.

During his two years as Cub-master Mr. Wells did an outstanding organization job, which would save a new cub-master considerable time and work. The local pack is set up with eight den mothers. Fifty boys have been members this past year.

The current problem is that to continue the existence of the pack a new charter must be granted to the local Cubs, and unless a cub-master is obtained the charter will not be granted.

The local Cub Scout situation is unique because the fathers and mothers have been very cooperative, according to the PTA officials. The den mothers hold a session each week with the boys, and the cub-master holds a pack meeting once a month.

In their active program, the Cubs have staged soap box derby races, had a father and son swim party, held a wiener roast at the city park where they did some clean-up work, held a blue and gold banquet during Boy Scout week, enjoyed a skating party, sponsored cooked food sales and have collected toys for the Community Cheer organization.

The next meeting of the parents of the boys is scheduled for Tuesday, Jan. 27th, at Chapman school at 7 P.M. The parent's meeting will be followed by the pack session.

Any man interested in assuming the job of cub-master is requested to get in touch with Mrs. Lois Wilder or Mrs. Earl Mulford of the PTA.
