Yamhill County Launches Friends Fight Fentanyl Campaign Aimed at Teens

'Friends Fight Fentanyl' empowers local teens to spot drug overdoses and get help from trusted sources. Yamhill County Public Health launched a youth-focused fentanyl prevention campaign this week. Friends Fight Fentanyl is a research-informed campaign that talks to teens in simple, approachable language about fentanyl and provides resources to help them navigate situations in their communities in Yamhill, Marion and Polk counties.

As the fentanyl crisis worsens in Oregon, Friends Fight Fentanyl goes beyond a "just say no" approach and speaks to teens with an authentic and credible voice to make them aware of the hidden dangers of the drug and learn how to look out for their friends and family.

"The youth may have heard how dangerous fentanyl is through the news, social media, their parents and schools," says Yamhill County Health and Human Services

Director, Lindsey Manfrin. "This campaign was designed to equip them with tools, like learning how to spot an overdose and then understanding what they need to do to save a life, as well as tips for how to find a trusted adult or other steps they can take to help keep their friends safe if they are engaging in risky behaviors."

The centerpiece of the campaign is the website, split into three major sections with facts, suggested actions and downloadable resources. Teens can easily navigate the site to find clear and concise answers to common questions about fentanyl, like how dangerous it is and whether it is recognizable based on smell, taste or color. A Spanish version of the website is also available here. Young people can also select from a list of possible scenarios to learn how to handle each one. For example, if a teen is concerned about a friend being exposed to fentanyl during other illicit drug use, they can click on the action button "Talk about it" for strategies on how to approach the issue with the friends, find a trusted adult to help, or choose from a list of helplines for substance abuse treatment and suicide prevention.

Teens can also prepare themselves for the worst-case scenario, recognizing the symptoms of a drug overdose and learning what Naloxone is and how to administer it. Friends Fight Fentanyl addresses common concerns like whether someone could get into trouble for helping someone who overdosed and links to a nonprofit who will train anyone on how to administer the medication and mail it to them for free. Friends Fight Fentanyl also provides downloadable social media content, quick-access checklists to spot an overdose and infographics to share throughout the communities. The website and all downloadable materials are available in both English and Spanish. As fear about fentanyl grows nationwide, Yamhill, Marion and Polk Counties want teens and adults to know that they are already protecting themselves and others by learning more about the drug. For more information, visit FriendsFightFentanyl.com or reach out to FriendsFightFentanyl@co.yamhill.or.us.

Oh my. Let's try cooking our eggs on the sidewalk after we hose them down. We could probably do it without too much trouble. My thermometer said 106 on Sunday afternoon. That's just too hot...at least, it is for me. You can only take off so many shirts and shorts before neighbors complain. At least they would in my neighborhood! I like cooler temperatures because you can always put on another shirt or pair of socks, but you can only take off so much. Please remember your pet in the car. They can't roll down the windows or ask for more water. It's best to leave them home for that short trip to the grocery store or post office when possible. Taking care of ourselves, others, and pets in this summer weather are "What's Up in Willamina."

Revitalizing Downtown Sheridan

Sheridan has an incredible history, and thanks to City Manager Heidi Bell and the Sheridan City Council, we now have additional reasons to look forward to an exciting future.

The council gave the city manager a unanimous thumbs up following a public hearing held during the Aug. 7 council meeting to apply for Sheridan's third Community Development Block Grant (CDBG). If successful, Sheridan would receive $50,000 from the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development through the Oregon Business Development Department.

These funds would finance hiring an outside consultant to meticulously analyze, document, and identify opportunities to improve Sheridan's economic and physical condition. The consultant would identify critical opportunities to ensure the long-term sustainability and growth of the community, concentrating on Sheridan's downtown core.

The consultant would offer a plan and guidance in implementing priority strategies. Throughout the process, the City of Sheridan and the consultant would engage Sheridan residents, business owners, private and public partners, schools, non-profits, and others.

The overall goal is to improve Sheridan residents' quality of life, identify potential sites for businesses to relocate, and serve as economic engines for the rejuvenation process.

The Sheridan Revitalization Movement (SRM) represents Oregon Main Street's Sheridan program which could be an essential asset for additional funding during the revitalization process. The SRM has pledged to improve its ranking with Oregon Main Street. Those who wish to help with this effort can attend SRM's meetings at 6:30 p.m. on the first Thursday of each month at the Sheridan Museum of History. Further information regarding SRM is available online at www.RevitalizeSheridan.com and on the group's Facebook page.

Sheridan was recently awarded two other Community Development Block Grants. One grant benefits the Grand Sheramina Food Bank. The food bank used some of these funds to purchase a 2021 Ram ProMaster cargo van about two weeks ago. Also, thanks to this grant, the food bank will soon outfit this van with a refrigeration unit to keep food safe while in transit. These funds will also pay for the purchase and installation of walk-in freezers at the food bank, other critical office equipment, and food.

The other CDBG grant will help finance a wastewater engineering project addressing capacity issues currently underway on Yamhill Street.

As Sheridan residents, you should always be able to reach out to your elected officials and ask questions about what is happening in Sheridan. Having open communication is important to me. Thank you for reading, and please remember you can contact me via email at mthomson@cityofsheridanor.com.

The Sheridan City Council meets at 7 p.m. on the first and third Monday of every month. When a holiday falls on Monday, Council meetings are held on Tuesday.

Obituary

Lynne Skyberg Millikan
June 29, 1948-July 11, 2023

On a stormy July day in Deadwood, S.D., Lynne Millikan finished her battle with cancer and instantly knew peace. She had fought long and bravely, her family loving and supporting her. Lynne loved life and dearly loved her kids, grandkids, and fur babies, but she let go of this world and joined her husband, Richard, who had gone to heaven before her.

Lynne Ellen Skyberg was born in Luverne, Minn., on June 29, 1948, to Jeanne and Elmer Skyberg, joining three older siblings. She was the dark-haired little beauty of the family and was adored by her brother and sisters. Later, the whole family left the state saturated in Norse heritage and culture and moved to a sunny little valley in Southern California that was surrounded by orange and apple orchards, and chicken ranches, settling in the small town of Yucaipa. Two more siblings joined the ranks, a sister and a brother. Money might not have been plentiful in the Skyberg home during many of those years, but love and laughter always was, and the loyalty of those six siblings, and the care and respect for their parents, never faltered.

Lynne spent her young adult years in Willamina, Ore., where the family had moved in the summer of 1967. She met and married Richard Millikan there, and their firstborn son, Anthony, and daughter, Rene, were both born in Oregon. The young family lived in a pretty house on the hill with her two sisters nearby and her parents across town. Lynne loved Oregon and being with family, and she never lost the feeling that it was home, but Richard wanted to try new places, so they packed up and moved to the same area of Southern California where Lynne had spent her youth. They had two more children there, completing their family with a daughter, Lisa, and a son, Richard. Lynne and Richard raised their kids in various towns in California before finally deciding that South Dakota was where they wanted to settle permanently.

Lynne was a wife and mom, above all. She stayed home and cared for her children, always making sure they had nice meals and felt safe and loved. In this, it echoed her own upbringing, including filling her home with laughter and fun times. She was an avid sports fan and definitely had a good time cheering her favorite teams on as the family watched games together. She was a good cook, something she learned from her mom and passed on to her own kids.

Lynne was the kind of mom you could wake up in the middle of the night when you were lonely or scared, and you knew she'd be there to listen and care. To her friends and family, she was generous and warm, and loving, with a genuinely kind heart.

Lynne always ensured she had plenty of dogs and cats to raise wherever she was. Her love for animals was epic, and her tender heart ached at the idea of any animal being at risk. She closely followed and advocated for the wild horses and burros in this country, always trying to raise awareness of the injustice of their plight. If anyone had a dog needing to be rescued, they knew they could bring it to Lynne to love and care for.

Lynne was always a flower child at heart. Her passion for the music and the rockstars of her era was with her until her very last day as she listened to her favorites in her hospital bed. She had a creative heart and an eye for pretty things. She used to make her own Nehru jackets, and since she didn't have a sewing machine, she hand-sewed them. One of the sayings she liked was, "Don't ever be ashamed of loving the strange things that make your weird little heart happy." This beautifully embodies the Lynne that those who loved her knew, with her eclectic style and her quirky sense of humor.

She always had a special devotion to her Norwegian heritage, the Oregon coast, the little apple-themed town of Oak Glen, Calif., and a fascination with old steam engine trains. Lynne's Facebook page, where she diligently kept in touch with family and dear friends, was a glimpse into her world and all the things she held dear. Lynne was the kind of woman who held up other people's small victories and joys in life with praise and delight, and she was a woman who took the sorrows of others into her own heart and wept over them.

The loss of those who passed before her was always particularly difficult for Lynne, even though she knew that gone didn't mean gone forever. Because of the promise of everlasting life made by her Savior, Jesus Christ, when Lynne left this world to join her beloved husband, she was welcomed into heaven by her dear mom and dad, her niece, Shonna Johnson, and brother-in-law, Gordon, and her nephew, Cody, as well as a slew of beloved animals who have crossed the Rainbow Bridge over the years.

She left behind an entire family and many dear friends who will miss her until the day they see her again. Her children are deeply feeling her absence; Tony Millikan, Arizona; Rene Millikan, South Dakota; Lisa Arnoldussen, Colorado; Richard Millikan, South Dakota; and grandkids, Abigail, Madelene, Isabella, and Jackson Millikan, Nick Eves and his partner, Addie, Faith, Chloe, and Lilah Arnoldussen, Dixie Englund, and Traci Lynne Millikan, well as her brother Loren Skyberg of Redlands, Calif., sisters Gloria Dalgity, Karen Johnson, and Janelle Stuckey of Willamina, and youngest brother Curt Skyberg of Rickreal, Ore., along with many nieces and nephews and their children.

Dearest Lynne, for you, we will sing along with the music you love, appreciate the unique beauty of each new day, and love with all our weird and quirky hearts for as long as we can, and then we'll meet again... You are so very loved.

A Message from the Sheridan Superintendent

Dear Sheridan Families,

Since the spring of June 2021, Sheridan School District, along with many other community partners, have been working on the Barbara Roberts Career Technical Education Center. The CEC property was purchased with State Lottery funds, awarded June 2021, through Representative Gomborg. Here is an update of the project and our work thus far.

- March 2022-Naming Ceremony: Barbara Roberts Career Technical Education Center
- July 2022-Awarded $500,000, through Senators Merkley and Wyden, the congressionally directed spending program for the purchase of truck driving simulators.
- October 2022-District awarded $1.4 million in ARPA funds from the Yamhill County Board of Commissioners. Began the design phase of the project.
- April 2023-Awarded Bremik Construction Company the CMGC Contract. Awarded a $100,000 solar planning grant from the Oregon Department of Energy.
- June 2023-Board presentation from Otak, recommend demolishing the current building, a savings of $1.5 million. The School Board approved the plan to construct a new metal building.
- August 2023-Redesign of the building floor plan and site plan, fundraising efforts continue.

Last February we requested funding from the State Legislature for the construction phase. Unfortunately, we did not receive funding but our fundraising efforts continue. We have partnered with many industries and organizations that are supportive of the need for career technical education. Our selected pathways, Diesel Tech (with truck driving and heavy equipment operation), Ag Business, Manufacturing, and Firefighting/EMT Training will provide students with the opportunity to enter the workforce upon graduation, or continue their education at a trade school/community college. If you would like more information about the project, please contact the Sheridan School District Office.

Obituary

Marilyn Joyce (Magers) Rosenbalm
1934 - 2023

Marilyn Rosenbalm passed away peacefully on July 15, 2023, in McMinnville, Ore., at 88 years old. She had been residing at Marjorie House Memory Care Community after recently being diagnosed with dementia. Marilyn was born on September 11, 1934, in Lebanon, Neb. She was one of seven children born to Glen and Ava (Allen) Magers. The Magers relocated to Oregon, living in Sheridan for a short time. They purchased a small farm outside of Willamina to settle and raise their family. Marilyn attended Willamina Schools. She was involved in many activities and was very well-liked by her classmates. She met John Johnson in high school and married in 1952. They lived in Willamina with their three children. Marilyn married Lloyd "Rosie" Rosenbalm in 1973. They spent summers in Pacific City, where Rosie fished on his Dory boat, The "Minga R." "Ming" was a nickname for Marilyn for those who knew her well. During her working career, Marilyn primarily worked locally. She drove a bus for the school district and worked at the local showhouse. Summertime work included driving the berry and bean-picking bus and being a row boss in the fields. She was also a baker at Piontek's Breadworks. Marilyn will be best remembered for the years she waitressed at The Hi-Spot, where she worked for decades. After it became Coyote Joe's, she remained employed until her retirement. Playing on the local volleyball and bowling teams were just a few of Marilyn's favorite pastimes. After her retirement, she kept busy working in her yard and became part of a weekly card-playing group and bingo enthusiast. She had been a member of The Willamina Christian Church since the 1950s. Road trips and visits to local casinos with her sister Glenva Clark and with her friend Jim Cox were also enjoyed. A loving, funny, sassy, generous, hardworking woman, Marilyn was loved and respected by all that knew her and will be very missed. She was an incredible daughter, sister, wife, mother, grandmother, aunt, neighbor, and friend. Her children survive Marilyn, Sharon (Reynold Lane) Johnson, Ken (Grace) Johnson, and Steve Johnson, all of Willamina; Brothers Howard Magers, Corvallis, Ore., Allen Magers, Dallas, Yuma, Ariz. She is also survived by her companion Jim Cox of McMinnville: six grandkids, 13 great-grandkids, and five great-great-grandkids. Stepchildren Jay Rosenbalm, Amity, and Lori Rosenbalm of Portland, Ore. Marilyn was preceded in death by her parents, Glen and Ava; husband, Lloyd "Rosie"; brothers Forrest and Vern and sister, Linda. A celebration of life will be held from 2-5 p.m. on Saturday, Oct. 7, 2023, at the West Valley Community Campus Auditorium, formerly Willamina High School. Refreshments will be provided.

THE FEDERAL BUREAU OF PRISONS IS AN EQUAL OPPORTUNITY EMPLOYER

Campfires Prohibited on BLM Lands to Protect From Wildfires

Due to high fire danger, campfires are prohibited on all Bureau of Land Management lands in northwest Oregon as of Aug. 11 at 12:01 a.m.

This restriction includes developed campgrounds. BLM officials have out these public use restrictions in place due to forecasted hot and dry weather.

"Doing what we can to prevent human-caused fires is very important, especially as we enter the peak of summer when fires can spread quickly," said Dennis Teitzel, Northwest Oregon District Manager.

Visitors can use portable cooking stoves that use liquified or bottled fuels and propane fire-pits with a shut off valve. Otherwise, campfires or any other type of open fire, including the use of charcoal briquettes, are prohibited.

During fire season, visitors can operate motorcycles and off-highway vehicles on designated trails in the Shotgun and Upper Nestucca Off-Highway Vehicle Areas when fire danger is low (green) or moderate (blue). When fire danger is high (yellow), the BLM only allows motorcycle and off-highway vehicle riding in these areas between the hours of 8 p.m. and 1 p.m. Otherwise, operating a motorized vehicle is only allowed on roadways clear of flammable vegetation.

The following activities are also restricted:

- Smoking is only allowed while in vehicles on improved roads, in boats on the water, or at designated areas.

- Using fireworks, exploding targets or tracer ammunition is prohibited.

- Operating a chainsaw is prohibited.

Visitors to BLM-managed lands are also required to carry with them tools to ensure small fires can be put out quickly. These tools include a shovel, axe, and at least one gallon of water or a 2.5 pound fire extinguisher.

Violation of these restrictions can result in a fine up to $100,000 and/or imprisonment of up to one year.

For information on fire prevention orders, please visit blm.gov/programs/public-safety-and-fire/fire-and-aviation/regional-info/oregon-washington/fire-restrictions. Visit the Oregon Department of Forestry for fire danger levels across Oregon.

WILLAMINA CITY MANAGER'S REPORT

FROM THE DESK OF WILLAMINA CITY MANAGER
BRIDGET MENELEY

"Never doubt that a small group of thoughtful, committed citizens can change the world; indeed, it's the only thing that ever has." ~ Margaret Mead

National Night Out

Thank you to the first responders for working with the City staff and local community partners, and numerous volunteers who worked together for the hugely successful 3rd annual National Night Out Event.

Update on ODOT visit

Thank you to everyone who has reached out to ODOT regarding the repairs that are needed on the railroad crossing in Willamina.

The work of everyone reaching out initiated an onsite visit from ODOT. They joined Mayor Ila Skyberg, Public Works Director Jeff Brown, Community Support Officer Mardette Cook, Hampton Lumber Plant Manager Brad Blackwell, and Community Member Tom Coblentz, who is one of our residents who consistently attempts to navigate difficult terrain while visiting businesses within our downtown area.

The following message was received from our ODOT Representative Jenna Burman,

"Thanks so much for taking the time to reach out. I did have a great meeting with several city staff, an ODOT maintenance person, and a Willamina citizen who navigates this area. With their input, I am working on both a short-term and long-term plan to address this area of concern.

Short-term, we plan to use some bicycle and pedestrian funding (most of the complaints so far are from people trying to walk or roll along the sidewalks) to grind and fill in some gaps. That should provide improvements for a few years while we compile the funding for a fix that will last for decades. The long-term fix will require extensive coordination with the rail owners and operators. So we are beginning to work on this as well as the short-term fix.

Thanks again for reaching out, and I plan to continue to communicate with the City Manager."

Please know that City staff will continue to be the conduit between the community and appropriate agencies to assist with repairs for not only the sidewalks but the roadway as well. When situations like this arise, and something needs to be repaired that is outside of the City's jurisdiction, it is imperative that we all work together to have our voices heard; YOU did that – thank you so much for all of your efforts, messages are being heard, and together we are making strides towards positive progression.

2023 Small City Allotment Grant

We have an amazing team that has always assisted the City of Willamina with applying and administering a majority of the grants obtained for our large projects. That is the same for the 2023 Small City Allotment Grant that was just accepted for review. With the assistance of outside agencies, the City has applied for approximately $500,000 to make needed repairs to sections of SW Hill Drive up to the intersection of Hill and Cherry Street. The grant application also includes requests for funding to make improvements to ADA curb ramps located at the NE Oaken Hills Drive intersections with NE 3rd St and NE 4th Pl.

NEXT STEPS: Site evaluations will be conducted between now and September 30th, award announcements will be made mid-October, and then we will start writing the agreements with the goal of them being executed in early January 2024.

Water Intake Project Update

Construction crews continue to work at the water intake site on Willamina Creek and are also working from the opposite direction off Oaken Hills Drive. The team is working on four large information boards that will provide communication about the projects for Community members.

Oaken Hills Pump Track Update

The new restrooms are three-quarters of the way completed, and we are awaiting confirmation of construction timelines which will be provided as we receive them.

Please feel free to reach out to City Staff for continued updates, questions, ideas, and comments so that we can all continue striving for a better community for all.

Do not fight your emotions over the next few days, Aries. You need to embrace your feelings or you might not grow in your relationships. Show everyone the true you.

TAURUS - Apr 21/May 21

Taurus, capture all of your great ideas on paper or in digital form to refer to later on. You're feeling creative right now, and soon you can turn this into projects that have legs.

Time isn't on your side right now, Gemini. You may wonder how you can add hours to the day, but you must make due with the time you have.

Leo, roll with whatever energy you feel coming off of the people around you. If everyone is subdued, then take that cue. If others are revved up, then you will want to light your own fire.

VIRGO - Aug 24/Sept 22

Hush your inner critic, Virgo. You are doing the best possible job you can at this time. You're simply too hard on yourself and you need to cut yourself some slack.

You cannot help being unusually focused on all of the little details, Aquarius. It could be a way to quiet your mind, which has been running nonstop for a few weeks.

PISCES - Feb 19/Mar 20

This could be your chance to indulge a little more, Pisces. Whether it's a big purchase or a night out on the town, do not resist the opportunity to get out and have fun.

How You Can Prepare for Extreme Heat

Extreme heat puts stress on the power grid, according to Portland General Electric (PGE). In preparation for this week's record-breaking heat, PGE encourages community members to safely conserve power. High heat means that more electricity is being used to cool homes and businesses. During this time, we encourage customers to help if possible.

How you can help

- If you have air conditioning, use your thermostat to manage temperatures carefully.
- If temperatures cool down enough for comfort, consider turning the AC off at night and opening windows (if you can do so safely) to cool with outside air.
- During daytime hours, run the AC only when you're at home and keep daytime temperatures at the highest comfortable level. Cool only rooms lived in.
- Avoid using large electrical appliances like ovens, dishwashers and washing machines during peak times.

• If you charge an electric vehicle at home, consider setting your car to charge during off-peak hours.

• Turn off all unnecessary electrical equipment like home entertainment systems, computers, copiers and lights when not in use.

High demand also places extra stress on electrical equipment, and that can lead to power outages. PGE is working diligently to address or prevent potential heat-related issues but encourage you to always be prepared in case of an unexpected power outage.

How you can prepare

- Have an outage kit ready.
- If you rely on electricity for your health and you are not yet a part of our medical certificate program, call us and we will enroll you.
- Have a backup plan to stay cool in case your power goes out, especially if you have medical needs that rely on power. Consider an emergency cooling center.
- Know food safety tips.

• Follow PGE on Facebook, Twitter or Instagram to stay up to date should outages occur.

Get more energy saving tip and learn about PGE's efforts to address or prevent potential heat-related issues at <https://portlandgeneral.com/extreme-heat-can-stress-the-grid>.
