WHAT'S UP IN WILLAMINA

by mary jane

Have you ever "seen" something and decided "Can't be," but you see it again within the hour? Well, that happened to me just before Halloween.

At first, I thought maybe I'd gotten some "bad" candy, but... NOPE. There it went again. It wasn't the same truck, but it was doing the same thing: hauling a load of Christmas trees through town!

I didn't realize we were that close to Christmas. Those trucks haul out loads and loads of trees every year. They're stored and reshipped from a lot on Hwy 22 between Willamina and Salem.

You...at least I do...think that by now, there wouldn't be any trees of that size left, but apparently, there are. I hope they make lots of families happy during the holidays.

Wishing everyone a great holiday season is "What's Up in Willamina."

Obituary

Carmen Ramona Wagler
1935 – 2023

At 88, Carmen Ramona (Kepford) Wagler went peacefully from her home in Willamina to meet her heavenly family on Nov. 1, 2023. She was born on Jan. 30, 1935, in Chehalis, Wash., to Thomas Charles and Faye (Senter) Kepford.

When she was four, her family moved from Washington to Kansas City, Mo. Then, after the war, they moved back to Washington, then Grand Ronde, Ore. That is where Carmen spent her youth growing up in the country, taking care of her baby brother Jim and riding her favorite horse.

Carmen went to grade school in Grand Ronde and then graduated from Willamina High School in 1953. She planned to join the Air Force after school, but she was swept off her feet by Ray D Wagler from Goldcreek Road, and on Jul. 11 at the Hopewell Mennonite Church, they were married. Carmen became a housewife and mother to four children: Evelyn Shenk of Prince George, Canada; Carol Skondon of Canby; Michael (Chris) Wagler of Willamina; and Nancy (Terry) Wagler-Serface of Texas—Carmen and Ray were blessed with sixty-eight years of marriage.

Carmen lived in the Willamina and Grand Ronde area until she settled on their farm on Fort Hill Road. After raising her children, Carmen's bug for traveling began. She and sometimes Ray traveled abroad and in the States many times. Carmen loved history, wanted to see as much of the world as possible, and put her toes in every ocean. A few trips even took her to Africa and Mexico for mission work. Carmen made many trips to Canada to see her daughter and family and even a cruise to Alaska on a ferry boat. However, her favorite place was Hawaii, and she had traveled there many times. For fun, she enjoyed playing volleyball with her high school classmates, sewing, painting, doing needlepoint, singing at the Sheridan Care Center with Paul, Dorothy, and John, and caroling with the Church of the Wildwood at the Alveta Home and Maple Leaf Home in Grand Ronde. To support her love of travel and get out to meet new people, she became a waitress at the Hi-Spot with Marilyn Rosenbalm and Verda Felton. She worked at the Strawberry Patch making peanut brittle with Vaneta Buswell and served tea with her friends during the local art tour. Carmen retired as a waitress from Fort Hill Restaurant, where she enjoyed many years talking and serving the locals with her good friends Joyce Elmer, Terry Goforth (owner), and Sandy Sims. Carmen was always full of energy and life; she never sat down, always on the go. You could find her cutting and hauling wood, mowing the lawn, painting the fence, or weed-eating the driveway. She loved going to garage sales, watching her Cowboys win!, roses of any color, pearls, sipping tea, drinking coke, and eating chocolate (she said that kept her young.) She was a doting wife, loving mom, caring sister, and wonderful gran. Carmen will be dearly missed by her family and friends.

Carmen was preceded in death by her parents, husband, brother Charles David Kepford, and son-in-law Glen Shenk. Her children survive her, her brother James Stephen Kepford (Linda) of Montague, Calif., six grandchildren, and five great-grandchildren. A celebration of life will be announced at a later date. Per her wishes, a private burial will be held in Hawaii. "Aloha, Sweet Lady, till we meet again."

A MESSAGE FROM THE WILLAMINA SCHOOL DISTRICT

Willamina School District 30J Bond Proposal May 2024

WHAT YOU NEED TO KNOW:

- $2.5 MILLION IN BOND FUNDING
- $2.5 MILLION MATCHING GRANT FUNDS
- $5 MILLION FOR WILLAMINA SCHOOLS
- NEW CLASSROOMS & PROGRAMS
- IMPROVE SAFETY
- LOWER RATE THAN 2014 BOND! (was $0.64, now $0.53)

Dear Willamina and Grand Ronde Community,

The Willamina School District is considering pursuing a bond in the May 2024 general election. The bond measure would provide a $2.5 million bond to the District. If passed, the State of Oregon would award an additional $2.5 million matching funds grant.

Bond Proposal

Projects: These projects have been identified by the district and community as priorities.

- Construction of five new classrooms at the high school.
- Improved safety; traffic flow, security systems, lighting, parking, and walkways.

New Classrooms

The construction of five new classrooms would bring teachers currently assigned to stand-alone buildings into the main building. The new space would also allow for the addition of programs to our existing schedule of courses. Culinary Arts and World Languages are two programs that students have identified as "high interest" classes they would like to take. The new classrooms, attached to the main building, would be an in-fill project located in the current courtyard directly behind the high school office.

Improved Safety

Bond funds would be used to create safer traffic flow for student drop-off/pick-up, upgrade security systems, improve parking lots, add exterior lighting, and replace crumbled walkways throughout the campus.

By The Numbers:

- $2.5 Million Bond (cost to taxpayers)
- $2.5 Million Matching Grant
- Total $5 Million for Projects
- $0.53 per $1,000 ($0.11 lower than the 2014 bond rate)

Remember the Classic 'Telephone Game'?

The Telephone Game is a classic icebreaker and party game played at kid's get-togethers for decades. The game involves whispering a few words or a phrase to the person next to you, who then whispers it to the next person, and so on. The purpose of the game is to send a message from the first player all the way to the last person in a group without distorting or changing the message in any way. The final person then speaks the message aloud to see if it matches the original message. The original message rarely reaches the last player accurately, and the results often cause the kids to erupt with laughter.

I can't help but wonder if Sheridan has a not-so-funny continuous city-wide game of "Telephone" in the works. I want to think that the people who perpetuate incorrect information believe what they are saying is true. Otherwise, it is simply cruel.

Before the last council meeting began, I was approached by a woman nearly in tears because of an untruth passed on to her that the City of Sheridan would sell three farmland parcels during the meeting. In truth, the council heard from farmers who applied to lease these properties. These new leases are now in the negotiation stage.

Spreading false or inaccurate information, whether deliberately intended to mislead or not, may result in ill effects for Sheridan and hard feelings among our citizens. Our brains are capable of marvelous things, but they may also make us vulnerable to some of these falsehoods. We should ask if these questionable statements can be backed up with solid logic and easily verifiable facts. Armed with knowledge and logic, you can more easily recognize, call out, and disprove disinformation.

One common untruth the council faces: "Councilors are out to line their own pockets with public houselessness funds." In reality, council members do not have access to these funds. In all council matters, ethics laws require council members to disclose and abstain from discussing or voting on any issue where they, or members of their households, may benefit personally. Here's another falsehood. The council holds secret behind-the-scenes meetings to bypass public opinion. The truth: All council meetings are open to the public, except for executive sessions.

Executive sessions allow confidential conversations on limited topics, such as city employment issues, labor negotiations, real property transactions, issues where Sheridan is competing with other cities for trade or commerce, litigation issues, and confidential matters according to state and federal law.

We realize that dealing with negative rumors can be challenging, particularly those with no basis in reality. We can't control what other people say, but we can control how we respond—and we can be resilient.

As Sheridan residents, you can contact elected officials and ask questions about city issues. You can contact me via email at mthomson@cityofsheridanor.com

Sheridan City Council Approves Leases for City Property,

The council meeting started with an executive session in regards to property transactions. Once reconvened to open session, the council voted on a motion to lease the 17.5 acres on Hwy. 18 B to Bryant Farms and the ten acres on Orchard St. and the eight acres adjacent to the sewer lagoons to Leppin Enterprises, and directed the City's attorney, Tyler Yeoman-Millette, to negotiate and finalize lease agreements for all three parcels. The motion passed.

The public comment period opened with Kay Buckles speaking first. She requested an update on the timeline for repainting or other solutions to the safety concerns about the crosswalk on Bridge St. near the Sheridan Museum.

Next Julie Oleary, said she was there to speak for Sheridan's concerned citizens, stated that "The Council and City representatives have decided to have meetings, participation, and planning without clear communication to Sheridan residents. The fact citizens have been burdened by corrupt politics in a small town is devastating. This council, along with our mayor and city manager, have made the choice to keep the taxpayers in the dark regarding the plans for homelessness. On top of that, we've had long-term members kicked off our committees, amazing employees of our city fired for mismanagement of our tax dollars, and giving special treatment to your friends and individuals for your personal gain. Sheridan citizens will not stand for this behavior, and our questions will not stop. I would like to ask the council, city manager, and the mayor, if you are not going to represent our City, please step down so we can do so." Councilman Jim Buckles asked the citizen if she had specific instances of these accusations, to which Julie replied, "I will ask and answer questions when you are transparent enough to answer ours."

Joe Neeley spoke in agreement with Kay Buckles about safety concerns for the crosswalk that runs across Bridge St.

The public hearing commenced to amend the Sheridan Development code section 16.235020 commercial zone case number LA 2023-02. The purpose of the public hearing was to present information related to the proposed amendment. Council member Lucy Hebert declared that she was the owner of the property in question and is choosing to abstain from voting on the amendment. The hearing closed, and the council voted to accept the first and second reading of the amendment. The final reading will take place on November 20, 2023.

Council President, Roxy Acuff gave a special presentation, stating, "We have all witnessed homelessness. Most are tired of the garbage, the filth, the crime, and just the mere appearance of homeless people, and I venture to guess that we would all want it to go away. Maybe someday it will, but not without the cooperation of those willing to make a difference and are inclined to do something. We have citizens come forward to voice their opinions on what the City Council should do. Some of their opinions are valuable and considered by the city. Thank you for sharing and helping us see what you want to happen, but most are telling us what they do not want and what we should not do. City Council meeting interactions, emails, and social media concerns are predominantly negative prejudice and do not help address the issue. Doing nothing will not make it go away. The city is committed to providing services to the homeless in Sheridan, and to those of you who are opposed, shame on you. In our search for a solution, we are working toward a common goal. We should focus on what we can do to make this a better place for all of us. Sheridan is a small town. The population on record includes the prison population. We do not have the sheer numbers of homeless that larger cities must deal with. Our homeless will estimate there are less than 30 living on the streets and in open places and Sheridan, but these do not include those that come and go or those that are couch surfing or living with friends and family. If we start in a small way, we can get a better handle on what our homeless need, what they want, and what they will take advantage of instead of creating services that are not necessarily used. I would like the council to consider three items. One would be a soup kitchen at the VFW hall that would provide warm meals and a place to eat them once a day for perhaps four or five days a week.

"Two, we can create a place to shower, use a toilet, use the sink, wash up, and provide basic needs for our homeless. This space could also include clothing, personal hygiene items, snacks, and encouragement. We have the funds to equip and supply a structure for the homeless to use, and a supervised and safe environment, whether it be portable or stationary, would serve a huge need. This does not need to be open 24/7. This would be supervised on a schedule with rules to be observed and enforced. The house and the lot vacant lot on Mill Street could accommodate this project with some additions and remodeling. The Third is a resource area with scheduled personnel once a week at first after it's been consistently independently open. We can see what services are needed and requested and not allocate time and manpower to a cause that might not be utilized. I personally have between five and ten homeless people who rent storage units from me. I talked to them about their needs and their problems. I have seven surveys returned to me, all from homeless people, none of them want to be homeless. All of them have different reasons for their current situation. They agree that these three projects would be needed and would be used. The purpose of my presentation tonight is to inform the citizens of Sheridan and to remind the council that we have talked and talked about the situation. We've asked for more information, we've had town hall meetings, we have invited organizations to our meetings, we've had multiple conversations on this issue, and we have put out surveys. So far, the only thing that we have agreed upon is that it's a tough decision, and we don't have the answer. It's time to proceed. We cannot expect the city manager to make this decision for us, and it's not her job to do so. We need to give her directions on what we want to accomplish without micro-managing every step. Heidi has the tools to make these projects happen. Many of the pieces are already in place. We can ask the task force to work on the next steps of this process, but we need to get started on these basic needs now."

During the presentation, a citizen in attendance continued speak out of turn. They were informed that this was not the time for public comment. However, they persisted. They were asked to leave but refused to do so willingly. The meeting was put into recess while waiting for authorities to arrive to remove the disruptive citizen.

After the incident was resolved, Tyler stated, "I will not allow my council to be disrespected by people who will not follow the rules."

The meeting resumed with appointments to the local housing task force. Mayor Marianne Thomson thanked everyone who applied, individuals and organizations. Those appointed were Amanda Widemark, American Legion Post 75, Amy Stuck, Deputy Brady Walters, Churches United of West Valley, Encompass Yamhill Valley, Jessica Helms, Margaret Bucknell, Sheridan Revitalization, Staci Coker, Yamhill County Health and Human Services, YCAP, and Provoking Hope.

Mayor Marianne Thomson stated, "We are looking to make some decisions about how the council will address homelessness issues moving forward."

She explained each council member had gathered surveys about the possible actions to take. The surveys have been turned in to be compiled, and the results released. The mayor then asked the council to vote on the actions as to which ones should be brought forward for the task force to focus on. The mayor asked, "Should the Sheridan City Council support a homeless camp in Sheridan?" This received one yes vote and four no votes. "Should the city of Sheridan build individual cabins or pods for houseless people on city property?" This received one yes vote and five no votes. "Should the Sheridan city council provide an easily moved mobile unit to provide showers, laundry, and restrooms on city property?" This received three yes votes and two no votes. Does the Sheridan city council favor a permanent unit containing showers, laundry, and restrooms?" This received zero yes votes and four no votes. Should the city of Sheridan provide transportation to those seeking services in McMinnville?" This received two yes votes and four no votes. Should the council approve long-term RV camping within city limits?" This received one yes vote and five no votes. Should the city of Sheridan offer a resource center at either the food bank or on city property?" This received five yes votes. "Regarding the city-owned house across the street at 127 Mill St., the city of Sheridan received a $39,700 Bid from Bigelow Construction to renovate the downstairs only of this two-story house as a resource center. The other possibility would be to work with Judy Adams to develop the resource center at Grand Sheramina Food Bank. Is the council in favor of renovating the city-owned house as a resource center?" This received four yes votes and two no votes. "Is the council in favor of working with Grand Sheramina to develop a resource center?" This received four yes votes and two no votes.

City Manager Heidi Bell wanted to reiterate, "No decisions have been made tonight. I know this can get really confusing for people. These votes were not decisions but a general direction for the task force to consider. The task force's mission statement is to better understand the scope and causes of homelessness in Sheridan. The task force will focus on the system in place to address homelessness and consider various concerns and potential solutions. The task force will identify and recommend actions to address these issues that will come back to the city council for decisions."

This eight foot icicle reached nearly to the ground at the Persons' home.

Gigantic Icicles Grow on House

On Saturday afternoon, Dec. 16, we drove out to see Mrs. Ethel Persons, who lives near the 'long steel bridge', south of town. She had called earlier in the week to say that there were some giant icicles growing on her house. And indeed, the icicles were big. On Saturday, even though the temperature was considerably above freezing the biggest icicle still measured nearly eight feet. Mrs. Persons said that earlier in the week during the coldest weather, the longest icicle was about 97 inches long with another one over 90 inches.

Local Landmark Falls

The familiar landmark in Grand Ronde vanished from the scene with its destruction two weeks ago by owner, Floyed Bunn. Built before 1920, it served as a water tower for the old railroad steam engines before becoming a part of the Grand Ronde Water System. About three years ago a water pipe broke during freezing weather causing this cascade of ice. Age and condition lead to its discontinuance and final destruction.

Times Sold; Goes Offset

Last week, after nearly three decades of publication by Mr. and Mrs. Orval Thompson, the Willamina Times was sold to Frank Parchman.

The Thompsons received statewide publicity in recent weeks when they thought they would have to shut down the Times for lack of a buyer. An obituary for the newspaper had already been published in the Nov. 2nd edition of the Times.

The newspaper was immediately converted to off-set printing with this edition to insure the highest quality printing reproduction possible, according to Parchman.

"A good newspaper is the backbone of a community," said Parchman, "and we believe we can provide Willamina and the surrounding area with a good newspaper." However, the survival of the Willamina Times rests as squarely with the people of this area as it does with us.

"We need the support of the people through subscriptions and through patronage of our advertisers if we hope to succeed here."

He said that the response of advertisers and townspeople to the prospects of the "new" Willamina Times has been very gratifying.

Ray Horn, a former free-lance photographer and writer has been appointed general manager of the newspaper.

Judy Lake showed slides and talked about Finland at the Grand Ronde elementary school Monday

Finland is Subject of Talk for Elementary

International Farm Youth exchange student Judy Lake gave a presentation on her six month stay in Finland to the students of Grand Ronde elementary school last Monday.

Judy, who is an Astoria girl now attending Oregon State University spent her time in Finland living with six different Finnish families. While in Finland she traveled extensively and took hundreds of color slides which she showed to the Grand Ronde students. Judy said that because she is an American it was natural for her to view many aspects of Finnish society as unique or foreign. For example, when she went to a market in the summer to buy some "corn on the cob" she was laughed at and told that corn was for feeding animals rather than people.

Judy noted several things that Americans customarily do which Finns do not do. For example, Americans usually dry their dishes after washing them whereas Finns just stack them in the cupboard to dry. Most Finns take sauna or steam both baths regularly whereas Americans have only recently gone in for the healthful joys of the sauna bath.

Judy found the climate in Finland very pleasing. The country is as far north as Alaska but has a milder climate. The winters are severe, but the highs in the summer usually run around seventy degrees. During the summer, all of the snow melts.

As a means of repaying her sponsors, Judy is obligated to travel the state for ten weeks telling various youth groups about her stay in Finland.

When she completed her planned presentation, the students asked her several questions. One boy wanted to know what would happen to people who drive their cars on frozen lakes in the winter if the ice gave way. Judy explained that usually a car's wheels would only go through the ice and that the car would just come to rest on the ice and the occupants could then get out of the car and go for help. When asked what Finns eat that Americans don't eat, Judy said that one of the things the Finns eat is Reindeer. Reindeer is a very stringy, lean meat and sells at a lower price that does American beef.
